FORBES FIELD, PITTSBURGH, Pa., Oct. 6.—With the shot of 5 to 4 calibre sunk into its bow, but still quite seaworthy, the low, raking craft of the Pittsburgh Pirates sailed valiantly into battle with the New York Yankees this afternoon, bent upon wrecking vengeance.

Commander Donnie Bush was on deck, breathing defiance and asserting in stentorian tones that no quarter would be asked or granted.

Pirate Guns Trained.

All Pirate guns were trained, cutlasses drawn and boarding parties ready. Vic Aldridge was in the turret prepared to man the main battery, the Waner brothers, most ferocious of Pirates, were primed for hand to hand action, and Wright, Traynor and Harris emerged from the hold with fire in their eyes. Never mind yesterday—this is another day," was the collective thought of the Pirates. They were in a nasty mood, and showed it.

Up to 12:30 this afternoon, an hour before game time, no official communique had come from Miller Huggins, leader of the confident Yanks, but it was reported at press headquarters that he would pitch George Pipgrass.

Weather Ideal.

The weather was ideal for the second world series game it was like a midsummer day. The sun shining brightly into the towering steel

EIGHTY CASES OF HOME BREW TAKEN

(Special To The News)

MERCER, Pa., Oct. 6.—There are 80 cases of home brew in the Mercer county jail this morning. During a raid at Farrell last night this large quantity was seized and brought to the county jail for safe keeping. This is about the largest seizure made at any one time since the prohibition era ensued.

Will Finds Ruth Disappointing in Game on 'Rodeo'

(Special To The News)

FIRST NATIONAL STUDIOS, Burbank, Cal., Oct. 6. — I had heard so much about this fellow Ruth and his homers that I listened in on the rodeo Wednesday and I never was so disappointed in my life at any one.

Why, he only hit three singles and a sacrifice fly. I thought he was supposed to knock home runs.

We are proud in Oklahoma of our favorite sons, the Walloping Waners.

We have produced the only two brothers that ever helped each other in a pinch.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

P. S.—You know yesterday I told you about breaking a record by buying a new car and not trading one in. Well, I just paid cash for it. I would have broken a real record, but I didn't.

SEDAN, TRUCK, STREET CAR IN SOUTH MILL ST. CRASH; EDMOND EVANS IS INJURED

An accident involving a street car, a truck and an automobile, which occurred about seven o'clock last night on South Mill street, in front of the New Castle Notion company place of business and the severe injury of Edmond Evans of North Mercer street, an employe of the Robins Furniture company.

The latter had his left hand broken, while the street car had to be removed from the service and the automobiles required considerable repairs.

According to the reports made to the police, Samuel Ciampoli of 14½ East Home street, was driving the sedan automobile of his father, north on Mill street in the street car tracks.

The truck of the Robins Furniture company driven by Harold Taylor, 312 Division street, and in which Evans, an employe was riding at the time, was also enroute north on Mill street. The street car in charge of Operator Otto Kray was enroute south at the time.

Ciampoli blew his horn as he turned out to pass the truck between Croton avenue and the Mill street bridge. It was necessary for him to go between the truck and the street car.

Kray, the street car operator saw that the automobile was not going to pass in safety and stopped his car. The Ciampoli automobile crashed into the street car, crushing in the side of the street car, as it was being driven from thirty to thirty-five miles an hour.

The Ciampoli car was turned around by its impact with the street car and in turning around struck the truck, causing it also to turn to one side and over on its side. The truck in toppling over crashed into the basement of the New Castle Notion company building, doing considerable damage to the building.

Evans was injured in the mixup.

Film Director Killed By Fall

Gay Party In New York Hotel Apartment Ends In Tragedy Early Today

FIND BODY ON HOTEL ROTUNDA

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—A gay party in the apartment of Miss Helen Greene, motion picture actress, at the exclusive part Central Hotel, came to a tragic climax early today when Paul Fairfax Fuller, 29, well-known motion picture director, fell to his death on the roof of a rotunda nine floors below. Police believe that Fuller toppled out of the window by accident.

His absence was unnoticed in the Greene apartment for an hour and a half.

Party Goes On.

While detectives below sought to solve the mystery of his identity and determine from whence he had fallen, Fuller' friends continued their celebration upstairs. They had met to congratulate Fuller upon his success in directing a new picture.

The party, consisting of motion picture actress and men connected with the motion picture industry, learned of the tragedy only when police knocked on the door to make an inquiry.

Miss Greene became hysterical. She could give no explanation for the accident, except that the director might have gone to a window for air and lost his balance.

Fuller is a nephew of Paul Fuller, a former president of the Pathe Film Company. He had a wife, Mrs. Helen Fuller, twenty-seven, and a fifteen-months-old daughter, Helen. Mrs. Fuller is in a state of collapse.

Drug Store Is Fire Damaged

Mystery Blaze At Drug Store At Beaver Street Corner Early Today

OWNER REPORTS LOSS IS HEAVY

Fire of an unknown origin, discovered shortly before 2 o'clock this morning in the drug store of Norman C. Moore in the Richardson heirs property, corner of Washington and South Beaver streets, did damage estimated by those whose property is involved at approximately $7,000. The loss is covered in part at least, by insurance.

Investigation by the police and fire authorities at and following the fire indicates possible incendiary origin of the fire, while a robbery was being attempted.

The investigation shows that an effort had ben made, evidently by thieves, to jimmy open the box containing liquor for prescription purposes.

Indications are police say, that the thief or thieves were trying to get liquor and failed, then went to the basement, still seeking it, where a candle melted almost entirely away and near the point of inception of the fire was found. It is believed that the thieves feared to use the electric lights for fear of discovery and were using the candle with the resulting disastrous results.

Officer Discovers Fire.

The fire was discovered about 1:40 a. m. by Officer Robert Letera who turned in the alarm. On the arrival of the firemen a second alarm was turned in calling additional apparatus to assist.

The place was filled with smoke and the light reflection inside the store was such that it was difficult to determine the exact location of the blaze. Water was turned on and the fire which was largely in the rear of the prescription case and in the floor and wall between the drug store and the pool room of Fred J. Thomas next door extinguished.

Water that was required did considerable of the damage in the drug store especially to the fixtures and the stock. Some of the water got into the Thomas pool room and did some slight damage.

Mr. Moore this morning estimated his loss at from $4,000 to $5,000. The damage to the building is variously estimated at from $500 to $1,500. The loss in the pool room was very slight.

The alarms were turned in from box 15. The firemen on their arrival found it necessary to break in the front door in order to get at the fire. The dense smoke made it hard to fight. The firemen were on the job approximately two hours.

Willis Beach Gives Self Up To Officials

Poultry Dealer Suspected In Connection With Lilliendahl Murder, Surrenders

ARRESTED WHILE WALKING ON ROAD

May Not Call Either Beach Or Mrs. Lilliendahl To Testify Before Grand Jury

(International News Service)

MAYS LANDING, N. J., Oct. 6.—Willis Beach, Vineland poultry dealer, sought on a warrant charging him with aiding and abetting in the murder of Dr. William Lilliendahl near here three weeks ago today, surrendered to Captain William Carter of the state police here and was locked up in the Atlantic City county jail.

Prosecutor Louis I. Repetto said today he was not certain whether Beach would be called to testify before the grand jury, which will meet this afternoon to consider evidence in the case.

The prosecutor said he was equally uncertain whether Mrs. Margaret Lilliendahl, widow of the slain man, would be called to testify today, although she has been subpoenaed.

Taken to Jail

Captain Carter and two other members of the state police met Beach walking with his attorney, Edison Hedges, towards Mays Landing on the Weymouth road.

After a brief conference between Carter and Hedges, Beach was formally arrested on the warrant and taken to the county jail.

Beach had been missing for more than a week. State troopers and county detectives scoured the countryside for the elusive poultry dealer on a warrant issued soon after his disappearance from his Vineland home.

He disappeared on the day that three men from Morrisville, Pa., were to have faced him to say whether he was the man they saw driving a blue coupe out of Great Meadow near Hammonton, soon after Dr. Lillien-

Judge Chambers Hears Evidence In First Case

Judge Hildebrand Occupies Bench With Him At Court Session Today

SUIT ON TRIAL IS EQUITY CASE

Edward Roberts Seeks Reformation Of Deed Given W. G. Tillia For Farm

Judge James A. Chambers presided at his first case this forenoon when he heard the evidence in the equity suit of Edward Roberts against William G. Tillia.

The case was heard in court room No. 1. Judge R. L. Hildebrand sat on the bench with Judge Chambers, but did not take part in the case. Judge Chambers presided in a dignified manner, making his rulings on objections to evidence or admissions of the same, with all the ease and grace of a veteran jurist. Many members of the bar dropped in to hear him try his first case and many favorable comments were heard.

Real Estate Deal.

The case before Judge Chambers was an outgrowth of an old suit by Roberts against Tillia over a real estate deal. In August, 1918, Roberts and Tillia entered into an article of agreement for the exchange of a farm belonging to Roberts in North Beaver township, for a house and lot on Neshannock avenue, belonging to Tillia.

After the agreement had been made Roberts became dissatisfied and wanted to call it off, but Tillia objected and took possession of the farm.

Man Is Killed, Two Injured In Highway Crash

Motorcycle Crashes Into Pedestrian, And Strikes Telegraph Pole

(International News Service)

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Oct. 6.—One dead and two recuperating in a hospital here today was the toll of a motorcycle accident here, when the machine struck a mill workman and crashed into a telephone pole.

Hassan Nuhich, 55, was killed instantly when he was struck by a motorcycle driven by Herbert Wagner. Wagner was rushed to a hospital suffering from concussion of the brain, lacerations of the head and injuries to his legs. His condition was said to be serious.

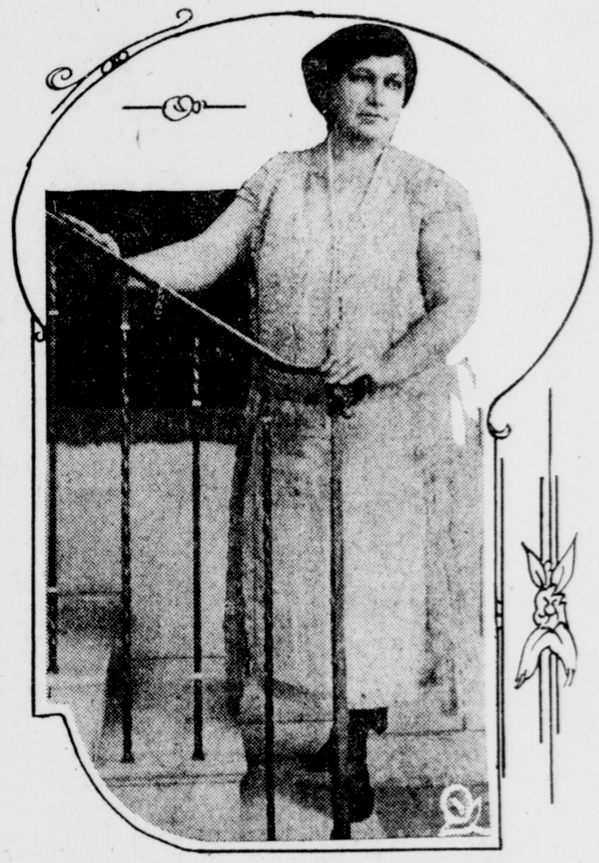
John Galbrenya, a companion riding with Wagner, escaped with minor injuries.

Warren Youth Is Killed By Truck

(International News Service)

WARREN, Pa., Oct. 6.—A verdict of accidental death was filed today by the county coroner following an inquest into the death here Tuesday of Reuben Anderson. Anderson was killed when the truck he was cranking while in gear pushed forward, pinning him against a platform, his neck was broken. The inquest was held at the request of Anderson's family.

Will Lead Campaign To Fill 1927 Chest



MRS. GRACE PHILLIPS JOHNSON

Announcement was made today in Community Chest headquarters that Mrs. Grace Phillips Johnson had accepted the post of general chairman of the 1927 campaign for funds which will start within a short time.

The acceptance by Mrs. Johnson of the leadership of the campaign insures efficiency and experience at the head of this highly important movement. She has been an active factor in charitable and education work here and for many years has been keenly interested in the work of the Young Women's Christian Association, as president of the board.

The selection of a woman this year comes as an innovation in Community Chest work. Since its inception here it has been headed by men, although the women of the city have played an important part in the gathering of the funds. After careful consideration the committee in charge decided that no better selection could be made than by naming a woman as the active head this year, and Mrs. Johnson was asked to take it. She has accepted it in the same spirit of cooperation and helpfulness that has characterized her activities in New Castle for many years.

Surrounding Mrs. Johnson will be a committee of men and women of New Castle who are "sold" on the need of a unified drive for charitable purposes here, and with the enthusiasm and interest already displayed in the campaign the success of it this years seems to be forecast.

G. O. P. Leaders Feel Certain Of Smith Candidacy

Republican Chiefs Faced By Problem Of Presenting Strong Candidates

ELECTORAL VOTES ARE BEING POLLED

Still Believe That Coolidge Is Only Man Capable Of Being Elected

By GEORGE E. DURNO
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—The Republican chiefs who are in town for a get-together-week with Chairman William M. Butler, of the Republican national committee, settled down with pencil and paper today to the business of juggling those magic factors in national politics known as electoral votes.

Their purpose was to get before them in black and white some idea of how the respective candidates on the Republican side would run against Governor Al Smith, of New York. Each of the national committeemen present was polled as to probabilities and conditions in his heme state, and from this poll the party elders compiled chart after chart purporting to show possible outcomes of the 1928 election with Smith established as the Democratic opposition.

Smith Likely Nominee.

The Republican leaders here, based on present conditions, are conceding the Democratic presidential nomination to Smith. The proposal offered by John Barnett, Democratic committeeman for Colorado, to get around the Democratic two-third rule, has increased their belief that the popular governor will be the ultimate opposing candidate.

Barnett intends to offer a resolu-

KANSAS CITY, Kan., Oct. 6—Murray B. Dilly, 18-year-old aviator of this city, was preparing to hop off from Fairfax field either today or tomorrow for San Francisco, later to attempt a cross country flight from the Pacific coast to Boston.

The flight, sponsored by the American association for the promotion of aviation, will be made for the $1,000 prize offered for aviators 18 years old or under. Young Dilley is the only one who qualified out of 37 original entries.

Dilley's plane is a Hisso 150-horsepower machine.

Five Rescued In Warren As Fire Damages House

Widow And Four Children Rescued By Firemen Cut Off From Stairway

(International News Service)

WARREN, Pa., Oct. 6.—Mrs. E. K. Rossman, a widow, and her four children Harrison, Beatrice, Aldean and Earl, the oldest of whom is 15 years old, narrowly escaped death early today when a fire broke out in the basement of their home.

The blaze was not discovered until a choking spell, caused by smoke, awakened Harrison.

The blaze had started in the basement of the house at the bottom of the chimney. It burned through the first floor and filled the house with smoke.

The entire family was asleep on the second floor when the fire was discovered, and was unable to descend until firemen rescued them.

Noted Bootlegger Shoots Wife And Then Surrenders

George Remus, Once Famous Federal Prisoner, Kills Wife In Cincinnati

HAULED FROM TAXI, BULLET ENDS LIFE

Tragedy Climaxes Several Years Of Domestic Strife In Remus Home

(International News Service)

CINCINNATI, O., Oct. 6.—Climaxing several years of domestic strife and litigation with his wife, Mrs. Imogene Holmes Remus, 38, George Remus, who gained nation-wide notoriety as "king" of the bootleggers", pulled his wife from a taxicab in Eden Park here today, shot and fatally wounded her, then surrendered to police. Mrs. Remus died at 10:45 a. m.

Mrs. Remus, shot once with a revolver through the abdomen, was rushed to a hospital, where an emergency operation was performed immediately by surgeons in a vain effort to save her life.

En Route to Court

The dramatic climax to the Remus domestic warfare came as Mrs. Remus was en route to domestic relations court, where a hearing of her divorce petition against the former bootlegger, who served terms in the Atlanta federal penitentiary and later in the county jail at Troy, O., for violation of the prohibition law, was scheduled this morning.

Mrs. Remus filed the divorce suit nearly a year ago, shortly after Remus was released from federal prison.

ARREST YOUTH FOR AUTO THEFT

Daring Auto Theft Occurs At Mercer; Arrest Is Made Near Polk

(Special To The News)

MERCER, Pa., Oct. 6.—Nelson Dennison, aged 21, giving his address as Youngstown, O., is in jail at Mercer charged with the theft of an auto at Mercer yesterday. He was captured by state highway police between Polk and Franklin.

According to reports of the theft, Dennison took the car that had been parked by D. F. Ragesdale in Pitt street yesterday in broad daylight. He was seen getting into the car and the alarm was given. Mercer officers gave chase but he had gained too much of a start on them. They then notified the state highway police at Franklin, and the driver was headed off near Polk and taken into custody, being brought back to Mercer jail.

The theft was the most daring attempt in Mercer's history, according to local officers.

He doesn't know what money is for, and clothes mean little too him, and overalls or a broadcloth suit he accepts with the same sort of grin. And its quite a bore to go into a store and have different coats tried on, he wants to be moving to other spots, he wants to be finished and gone. And I sometimes think that this two year old lad, on clothes has the proper view, for a fellow's the same though his clothes be old, or though they be smack brand new. But he has to be dressed for the winter storms, and a coat was the thing he needed, but the words of the folks that he "stand right still" were passed by lightly, unheeded, he wanted to run and he wanted to jump and he wanted to monkey and play, but they finally fitted a coat on him, its warm, eighty-four today.

AUTOMOBILES WANTED

For the Sunday School Convention

The people of New Castle will be expected to donate automobiles for use of the strangers attending the State Sabbath School convention in this city next week. About four thousand delegates will be here. A great many cars will have to be parked in front of the Cathedral at all times to take care of taking the delegates to the places they desire to go.

If you can furnish one or more cars, at least part of the three days, let the undersigned know at once. Phone 4000.

People who live in New Castle and who can get to the Cathedral without their own cars are requested to do so, as there will be hundreds of cars brought here by the delegates.

Space will be provided on Lincoln avenue for those who donate their cars for the service of the convention delegates. All such cars will have a sign on them designating their use.

All visitors will be given a police courtesy card when they register. Mayor Dunlap and Chief Henry Dysart will do all in their Power to help the delegates while they are our visitors.

On Tuesday evening Oct. 11, and Wednesday, Oct. 12, the greatest number of cars will be needed, as the delegates will be coming in then and the cars will be expected at the railroad depots to meet all trains.

FRED L. RENTZ,
Chairman Reception Committee.

Phone 4000.

Make Plans To Decorate City

State S. S. Emblems And Flags Will Be Used

COURTESY CARDS WILL BE ISSUED

Courtesy cards, which will be issued to the delegates to the 65th annual convention of the Pennsylvania state Sabbath school convention to be held here next week are now in the hands of the printers, and police officials except to receive them by the end of the week.

The state association is also sending their emblem and it will be reproduced on cards worded "Ride With Us". This will give delegates an opportunity to hail cars with these signs on them and to be taken to any part of the city.

The decorations committee plans to have two "Welcome" banners displayed down town during the convention. One will be hung across Washington street at the diamond while the other will be hung across Washington street at the intersection of Mill street.

Plans are also being made to have the state emblem printed on cards and pennants which will be furnished to the local merchants to display in their windows. Where these can be secured will be announced later by the decorations committee.

An overflow meeting will be held in the First Methodist church Thursday night of the convention, which will be adult rally night. A prominent speaker will be heard. This meeting will relieve the congestion at the cathedral auditorium and also afford the people of New Castle and vicinity an opportunity of attending a convention session for this evening.

MANY INSPECT HOME FOR GIRLS

especially this week, when they hope that all persons who are interested in the home will give the members of the club an opportunity to show them through the house.

One of the features which was commented upon last evening is a map of New Castle, dated 1855, which hangs in the second floor hall. This was made possible through the efforts of almost 100 subscribers, whose names appear along the margin of the map.

Many of the buildings which are shown on the map are familiar now, especially the Leslie hotel site, the J. C. White property, the Falls property and the court house.

Well Equipped.

Beside the adequate baths on the second floor of Crawford-Oakridge, there are four bedrooms, one double room and three which have three beds in them. All of these rooms are furnished in dark walnut. Also, throughout the second floor, gold candelabra prevails. In the hall there also is an antique secretary.

Before the Quotarians took over the old Crawford homestead the third floor was lighted only with little floor windows. But now full size openings have been cut so that all of the rooms are exceptionally well lighted. On the third floor there are two single rooms, one double room and one with three beds in it. Like the rooms on the second floor, they are all furnished in dark walnut. One feature which is noticeable about all of the rooms, both second and third floor, is the ample closet space.

On the first floor the living room is furnished in tan wicker, with contrasting cushions and drapes. There is also a golden candelabrum and a marble fireplace, which is the acme of the Victorian artist's art. The music room is also furnished in tan wicker with gold and blue drapes. A piano has been placed there.

The motif in the dining room is early American, and the kitchen is quite modern, being large and airy.

A room for the hostess is also on the first floor, which is furnished almost like the girls' room upstairs.

G. O. P. LEADERS FEEL CERTAIN OF SMITH CANDIDACY

tion to the Democratic convention next June in advance of the actual balloting to the effect that the two thirds rule be maintained through a given number of ballots—fifteen to twenty-five—and that, failing to procure a nomination, the rule be then suspended and a majority declared sufficient to nominate. As a resolution may be adopted by a majority of the delegates, and as Smith is expected to have nearly a majority upon entering the convention, the Republicans now in conference here are unanimously of the opinion they will have Smith to beat in the run-off.

Quite Pessimistic.

Talk at Republican headquarters centered around the situation in New York, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Maryland, Kentucky, Tennessee, New Jersey and Oklahoma. All would be battle grounds with Smith contending and his tremendous popularity was in no way under-estimated by the Republican stalwarts.

One tally—admittedly quite pessimistic to have been drawn by a Republican—gave Governor Smith as high as 245 electoral votes, 21 short of election but 109 more than John W. Davis garnered in 1924.

Another committeeman was studying a chart on which he had tabulated 199 for Smith with a number of doubtful votes outstanding.

Backers of Charles E. Hughes continued to boost the former secretary of state as the best-qualified man to keep New York from the Democratic column, but so far as could be seen there was general apathy to his candidacy. Still others weighed the chances of Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover and Vice President Charles G. Dawes.

And underneath everything was runing a growing conviction that it might be best to take no chances and work out a situation wherein President Coolidge, the one man they know is a vote getter can be drafted.

"The situation isn't to be regarded lightly," said one leader. "We have to face it and we'd be foolish to overlook any bet. At least we could give the nomination to Coolidge and then see what he'd do about it, "do not choose" statement, third-term cry and all."

former marriage, Mrs. Remus had left an apartment hotel in a taxicab, on route to the courtroom. As they drove through the park, Remus, in his own machine, driven by his chauffeur, overhauled the car. The driver, after being warned by Mrs. Remus, who recognized her husband's machine in pursuit, fled from the cab just as the Remus machine pulled alongside.

Remus, according to Mrs. Remus' daughter, Ruth, 19, leaped from his machine, screaming curses and abuse at his wife, seized her as she attempted to flee after he had jerked her from the machine, and shot her through the body. Then he jumped into his own machine and fled from the scene. Later he surrendered to police.

Remus has been in the public eye since the early days of prohibition, when he established his Death Valley farm, near here, and purchased many distilleries. He fought the Volstead act through most of the courts of the land, and eventually found himself a federal prisoner.

Served Time in Prison

During this time a divorce was brought by his wife, Imogene. Remus countered with a cross-petition and named Franklin L. Dodge, former Department of Justice agent at Cleveland, as corespondent.

Remus served his jail sentence at troy, O., and at Portsmouth, O. Soon after his release from Portsmouth Mrs. Remus and Dodge were arrested here on a telephoned warrant from Portsmouth and charged with having defrauded one "Frank Brehm" in connection with the removal of whisky from a government warehouse. The case was dismissed when the Hamilton county courts asked that "Frank Brehm" appear here.

Before acquiring his bootleg reputation Remus was an obscure lawyer in Chicago. His wife formerly was his law clerk. They were married in 1920.

Remus is said to have been born in Germany 49 years ago, but the exact date and time of his birth has been a matter of still another controversy, which resulted in an investigation by the immigration authorities, with a view to deporting him on the ground that he was an alien, soon after completion of his sentence in the Atlanta penitentiary. Insufficient evidence that Remus was not entitled to citizenship, however, resulted in this case being dropped.

Remus bought up distilleries with the advent of prohibition and organized what federal officials characterized as one of the most complete bootlegging syndicates in the country. Deliveries of liquor illegally withdrawn from the warehouses were made by truck from his Shadyside farm throughout the Middle West.

He was finally indicted by a federal grand jury for liquor conspiracy, sentenced to a year and a day in federal prison and later sentenced to a year in county jail at Troy, O., for liquor violations.

He was released from jail about three months ago.

Is Identified.

MAYS LANDING, N. J., Oct. 6.—A few hours after surrendering to the authorities, Willis Beach, South Vineland poultry farmer, was identified by three men today, according to the police, as the man they saw driving a blue coupe out of the great swamp lane on the morning of September 15, just before Dr. William Lilliendahl was found murdered there.

The men who made the identification, according to the police, were William Driver and James Grant, partners in a contracting firm in Trenton, and Paul Eldridge, chauffeur for Grant.

Driver was the first to identify Beach, the police said. The identification was made in a room where Chief of County Detectives Frank Harrold, State Police Captain William Carter, Assistant Prosecutor S. C. Hinkle, state troopers and the three witnesses were waiting.

Beach was brought to the room from his cell. Beach was told to remove his hat and assume various poses. He complied and then Driver almost without hesitation made the identification, which police said was corroborated by the other two witnesses.

Meanwhile, in another part of the building, the Atlantic county grand jury was hearing witnesses who had been subpoenaed.

William McCutcheon of Hubbard, O., died at his home on Wednesday evening, according to word received by friends in this city. He is survived by his wife, two daughters and one son. He also leaves a niece, Mrs. William Cross of Wilmington avenue, this city.

Funeral services will take place Saturday morning at 9 o'clock.

JUDGE CHAMBERS HEARS EVIDENCE IN FIRST CASE

Roberts claimed that Tillia took forcible possession, but Tillia maintained that it was according to the terms of the agreement.

Litigation followed over a period of several years. Roberts refused to accept the rent for the house and for a time the tenant kept the money in a bank but so far as known Roberts never accepted. After the litigation had run its course a settlement was finally made and the deeds passed for the respective properties.

Under the original agreement Roberts was to deed Tillia 80 acres from the south side of a farm, which contained about 105 acres. After Roberts had given Tillia his deed he discovered that an error had been made and that he had deeded Tillia from 2½ to 4 acres more than he should have done.

Tillia was asked to permit the deed to be changed, but refused, claiming that there had been no error and that it was according to a survey made by Roberts' own engineer. Being unable to reach any agreement Roberts then brought the present suit in equity in which it is sought to have the deed reformed. The deed has been filed in the register and recorder's office and only court action can change it, should the facts warrant.

Judge Chambers will hand down his decision later.

Mrs. Ressa Perrine, stenographer in the office of Attorney Wylie McCaslin, took down the evidence.

Mass Troops To Prevent Fall Of Peking Is Report

Mass Troops Outside Great Wall Of China To Prevent Capture Of City

By JOHN GOETTE
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PEKING, Oct. 6.—Chank Tso Lin, Manchurian war lord, was massing troops outside the great wall today to prevent the fall of Peking to the steadily advancing Shansi province forces.

The Peking army is falling back. The city is quiet but there is some uneasiness among the civilians.

A tight censorship has been clamped down. It has been in effect since last Monday evening.

Sidelights On World's Series

By LES CONKLIN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

FORBES FIELD, PITTSBURGH, Pa., Oct. 6.—Many fans missed seeing today's game because they were too smart. Believing there was no chance of getting inside the park unless they stood in line all night, the wiseacres decided to stay home and avoid the crush. As a result the bleachers were only half filled at 11:30 o'clock.

The line of fans waiting to buy standing room in the grandstand was much shorter than yesterday. The local enthusiasts evidently have decided that no ball game is worth cracked ribs and sore feet.

The skies over the Smoky City were doubly dark, doubtless due to the pall of gloom which has enveloped the town following New York's victory yesterday. Even Nick Altrock, the prince of comedians, and his red-coated band failed to revive the crowd's drooping spirit.

The weather was balmy, however, many fans in the bleachers shed their coats, providing a mid-summer background for the October classic.

There were at least 1,000 coughs to a carload among the bleacherites. They were so hoarse from yesterday's rooting that they didn't do much yelling during batting practice.

Ruth missed a terrific swing in practice. He swung so hard that an accountant of a nearby field box shivered in the breeze and quickly donned his top coat.

"Squint" is the Pittsburgh players private nickname for Manager Bush, when Donie posed with the team for a photographer, one of the Pirates yelled "squint, swuint, swuint."

Umpire Nallin's mask appeared somewhat battered. It seems that Mr. Nallin stealthily entering his home following an all night poker party wore the well known mask for protection against a barrage of rolling pins.

The Pittsburgh dugout resembled a college football bench, with former managers and players handing Donie Bush free advice like an old grad giving orders to the coach. Bill McKechnie, who blew up as the Pittsburgh pilot last season because he had too many bosses, was in there telling Bush how to win the series.

Earl Smith, the usually aggressive and talkative catcher, showed no more animation than an oyster today. Being fined $500 for "kayoing" Dave Bancroft, and being acclaimed as the official "goat" of yesterday's game has crabbed Smith's style fearfully. Members of the burly New York team also have warned him not to speak out of turn.

One fan got past the ticket chopper without a pasteboard. He led the police a merry chase around the grandstand, but was finally caught and ejected from the park.

STOVE LEAGUE NOMINATORS

WITH only a hundred tongues Rumor could never do business in the United States. The politicians and the gossips sit in perpetual nominating convention. Before a president has mastered the geography of the white house, they were busy naming his successor. It is a harmless amusement, if a little tiresome to those compelled to listen; and experience has convinced the rank and file that these Merlins are about as unerring as the Candlemas groundhog. Only they have a wider variety of choice.

The twelve-state group of volunteer thinkers from the corn belt has approved former Governor Lowden's plan of farm relief. Therefore, the College of Nominators sees Mr. Lowden in the crystal ball and his boom outgourding Jonah's gourd. Presumably he is relied upon to carry the cotton states.

But they also love bloc government. Senator Brookhart, who is on the spot making statistics to order, or any other insurgent Republican, would appear to be the predestined darling of these statesmen and economists. Precocity is never a good indication of booms; but since these are booming most of the time, what's the odds?

Since Mr. Coolidge decided not to choose to run next year, the political prophets and soothsayers have had Hoover, Hughes, Dawes and a half dozen other Republicans nominated and elected a thousand times. On the Democratic side of this palace of prophecy a similar wave of foretelling the future was precipitated by Mr. McAdoo's decision not to choose to run in 1928. Favorite sons have been brought forth by every state as potential opponents of Smith, Reed and other national figures.

Whatever the outcome in 1928, sensible men will not pretend to foretell it. Let the marplots and the soothsayers enjoy their lingering All Fool's Day till the conventions are over and then go on sitting for four years more.

GETTING OUT THE VOTERS IN JAPAN

THE surprise and disappointment expressed by Japanese newspapers and politicians because only half of the newly enfranchised voters in the Empire took part in the recent local elections cannot be shared in the United States.

Most communities in this Nation consider that a heavy vote has been cast if half of the potential electors go to the polls. The percentage of voters rises appreciably above this point only when issues of extraordinary interest and intensity are to be decided.

As a matter of fact, the Japanese have done very well at the first elections following the increase of qualified voters from 3,000,000 to about 12,000,000. Suffrage was extended to women in the United States seven years ago, but it is doubtful if twenty per cent bother to exercise it.

A real test of the Japanese voting strength will be made at the parliamentary elections next year. Gloomy predictions that there will be an upheaval of vast import certainly are not borne out by any omens thus far available. It is likely that there will be a gradual transfer of power to popular parties created out of the old alliances of the "men of substance" who in the past have held the exclusive electoral right in the nation. The Japanese people are too piously attached to their national traditions to become the victims of radicalism. Their exercise of popular government is unlikely to be marked by abuse.

FIRE LOSSES HIT ALL

AFTER the war, which afflicted upon a suffering humanity a thousand pests and parasites in the nature of days and weeks set apart for special observance for something, there was a universal reaction against such campaigns and drives. This war-born publicity vehicle suddenly became as unpopular as the first day of the month.

On "week," however, survived this storm of public disfavor. More than that, it has grown in popular observance since the hectic war days. It is "Fire Prevention Week."

The purpose of this seven days' observance is to teach the people a few simple rules for fire prevention and help them form the habit of obeying them during the fifty-two weeks of the year. After several years of well organized observance it has not abolished fire losses, but it has reduced the number of fires traced to human carelessness.

Fire prevention has a universal appeal. Fires kill and make homeless, increase the cost of living, maintain high fire insurance rates, destroy the fruits of man's labors and deprive mankind of the use of natural resources. Everybody loses in every fire.

Human carelessness is the cause of many fires, and a cause that man in his present imperfect state will never be able to eradicate, so man must be protected against himself by fireproof building methods and materials. Education will work wonders in this important work, but it cannot win the battle alone.

With so much at stake, why should it be necessary to pass laws and create costly bureaus that buildings may be built to withstand fire and wired so as to be proof against fires from that too common source? Who should be held accountable, the too-thrifty builder or the contractor and electrician who condones and performs faulty work?

Most advice seldom gets any further in than the eardrum.

Even something worth saying is not always a satisfactory substitute for silence.

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 5:35. Sun rises tomorrow 6:03.

Man lives fom day to day, while a fish lives from one Friday to another.

We do hear an occasional complaint about the high cost of coal, but we never have heard anyone kicking about the price of gas and tires.

Many automobiles will be needed for the Sunday school convention in this city next week. If you can, have your car on the job for service. This is the custom when the Sunday school convention is held in a city and we want to do our part right.

Just now there is another of those mysterious husband murders in New Jersey. They have some bungling murders of husbands in that state but so far the bungling ladies have gotten away with it and no one has even been put in jail for very long.

The man who says I never think of business after I leave the office in the afternoon hasn't any.

The king of Belgium greeted the members of the American Legion in the most democratic manner and all formality was dropped. The king of Belgium is like an American and he has all the characteristics of George Washington. He fought side by side with his men in the trenches during the world war. And that's democracy all right.

An actress in Baltimore has asked the courts to annual a marriage for her on two different occasions and each time she claims she was intoxicated when the ceremony was performed and she did not know what she was doing. The court has ruled that she is till married and is going to stay that way as far as that court is concerned. The court was just and right in that ruling. When men and women get married they should be sober and lots of it.

At a convention of shoe dealers held at Niagara Falls a speaker declared that man is paying more attention to dress now and that in the near future he will turn out to be more glaringly arrayed than the females. One thing sure they will not wear any less clothes and it would not make much difference if they did because no one cares about seeing unlovely legs and that is the only kind men have.

It seems to take a long time for the bad taste to get out of the mouths of a lot of good people put there by the recent prize fight in Chicago. We have an idea that before another such rotten affair is pulled off in America there will be plenty of good, substantial protest. When it is too rotten for us it's bad. We admit it ourselves.

Occasionally one sees a penny slot machine setting around with a sign on it which reads "Out of Order." There's no cents in that now is there?

At Sewickley, Pa., there is a sign on the jail which reads: "This Jail for Residents of Sewickley Only." That place is very exclusive about everything.

Rev. Berquist, the Mission man, says it to his friends with advertising. The Superintendent knows the value of printers' ink in promoting his business and he is making a success of his work. Intelligent promotion is what is needed in nearly all cases to put a proposition over.

Coal mine leaders urge the people to conserve coal as much as possible. Why need any urging? Is anyone burning more than needed or wasting any. We haven't seen them. We're personally satisfied if we don't have to burn any coal this winter, but then the weather man will have something to say about that.

A village is a place where the man who has a shoe shine on Wednesday is a traveling salesman.

That immense big and fine chorus that Paul Browne Patterson has been training is to sing for Rev. Berquist at his annual Mission meeting on October 16. The chorus is composed of about 350 voices, all good ones. We're afraid the First Methodist church isn't big enough for such a chorus and for the crowd that will want to attend. The Scottish Rite Cathedral Auditorium would be a fine place for this meeting if the proper arrangements could be made.

Up in Erie county a rattle snake attacked a farmer in the field and his wife went to his assistance and drove the snake off and helped to kill it and then had her husband taken at once to the hospital. Now that is the kind of news we like to read about husbands and wives. It is far better than reading where a wife has shot her husband or poisoned him or prayed that he die or conversely on the part of the husband. A man and wife should be pals and not enemies.

Well, the election returns have been officially counted and there has been no changes over the reported unofficial returns of the day after the nomination. The figures tabulated by the News election night and reported in the election extra and again in the regular edition the day after have been verified almost to the figure. A Nice Letter.

Our good friend Charley Cripps of the Cripps Hardware company, received a letter a few days ago that he thought was very much all right and he brought it to us and after reading it we think it is all right. We are not using the name of the sender of course.

Mr. Cripps:—

Dear Sir—The delay of this account is nothing but carelessness on my part. I received statement and asked my husband to stop in and take care of it which he said he would the day following. He evidently has not thought of it since of which is very easy to do. I certainly thank you for reminding me of it. I am enclosing you $11 of which I feel sure you are entitled to the change for interest on the money we have carelessly failed to pay you. This is no more than fair to you as you had to lose the interest yourself and we have been the cause it. So please do not return the change as it rightfully belongs to you. Hoping you will accept my hearty thanks for your appreciated fine service and attention we have always received from your people.

Sincerely yours, Etc.

A Cleveland man accuses a policeman of hitting him while he was hugging his wife while sitting in his own automobile. How was the cop to know it was his wife the man was hugging. LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct. 6.—President Coolidge promises "to solve the problem of (Mississippi Valley) flood control, so that such a situation may never again have to be met."

It means only determination, which the President expresses, plus engineering ability and money. The country has plenty of both.

Senator Hiram Johnson appealed to the convention of union labor in this city yesterday to work for the Boulder Dam project, harnessing the Colorado river for power, irrigation and water supply. He told the union men, "Public utilities companies say they have seen billion dollars of investment, and declare that our government shall not be permitted to build a generating dam at Boulder Canyon.

"If it takes twenty years we'll teach the public utilities that there is something bigger than seven billions of public utilities dollars, and that is the government of the United States."

Formerly labor, even in America, would have opposed power development by government, lest it "take bread from mouths of working men."

American labor is too intelligent for that now. In China when the British built an electric road up a steep grade they had to promise to haul only passengers, no freight. Chinese coolies, men and women, wanted to carry the freight on their heads and backs.

Some of our big companies fear national improvement as the Chinese do. They will get over it, and realize that what helps the country helps all big and little interests in the country.

At present they are the biggest power in the country, and prove it by holding back whatever does not please them.

There was "buying power in the stock market" one day this week. Somebody bought 540,900 shares of the new General Motors stock and sales totaled 3,147,300 shares. The three-million-share mark has been passed only nine times in the history of the Stock Exchange.

The "social surplus" of this country is ten billion dollars, which means that the American people earn each year ten thousand millions more than they need to live on. Wall street will see bigger days, and stock brokers bigger prices for their seats.

Stock brokers warn customers "to adopt a most conservative market policy," not knowing what else to advise. The best advice is, "Don't gamble and don't sell short."

For many generations France has rewarded with prizes, parades and pretty dresses the "good girl" of the village, called La Rosiere. Often the Rosiere is good and pure 100 per cent, but more good than beautiful. A rich Frenchman will give prizes for GOOD LOOKING Rosieres. A girl that can be good AND good looking, this Frenchman thinks, deserves an especial prize.

Here we have thousands such, and somebody should give a prize to the girl with the best brain. We have plenty of pretty faces and legs, and frequently crown them "Queen."

Mexico has a lively presidential campaign. In Mexico City yesterday Gen. Alvarez, President Calles' chief of staff, announced the execution of Serrano, one candidate, with 14 of his followers. They were shot as rebels.

Sir John Lavery, who has come to America to paint a portrait of Cardinal Hayes, has a world-wide reputation as a painter, and his pictures adorn the walls of many of the principal European galleries, while some of the public galleries in the United States, Canada, Australia, and South America own examples of his work. Sir John is a native of Dublin and studied art in Glasgow, where he is regarded as one of the leaders of the "Glasgow School" of painting, in London, and in Paris. As a fashionable portrait painter he has for long held a foremost place, and a large group of the English royal family painted by him, and presented to the nation, was much happier than such groups are apt to be. Some of his most beautiful landscapes were painted in Morocco where the brilliance of the eastern sunshine seemed to captivate his imagination.

KNEE PANTS

Larsen, a Paris designer, has decreed knee pants for evening wear, and Jean d'Ahetze puts them on and defies fashion.

Whether knee pants will ever come in vogue again is a question, but they have everything in their favor.

They have crept in to some extent among golfers who wear plus fours, and it is said that they wear knee pants at certain courts.

There is a legend to the effect that along about 1852 a certain King of England having a deformed leg, unfurled his trousers to the shoe tops and immediately the whole world imitated him. We have to keep up with London, don't you know!

Long pants came into vogue, not from a sense of modesty against displaying the calf, but there is a strong suspicion that they were invented by the ashamed to hide crooked legs and knobbed knees.

Every young man knows that the article of his apparel that causes him the most concern is his pantaloons. It is hard to keep the crease in them just right. It is expensive to send them every week to the tailor and have them pressed and it is a bother to put them in between the mattresses when you go to bed.

The knee is the natural bending place of the leg, and knee trousers do not get baggy.

And then there is tradition. Our forefathers, G Washington and others, wore the abbreviated nether garments, and if we are to follow in their footsteps in avoiding entangling alliances with other nations, why shouldn't we follow their knee style, so to speak, and wear short trousers?

Besides this, there is the matter of comfort and convenience. It sufely is more comfortable to wear knee trousers than to wear them long.

We might also speak of their artistic appearance. Long nether garments are the despair of artists. It is hard to make a statue of a hero and have his legs look like cannons. There is a chance to give much more individuality to a personage if you represent him as clothed in knee trousers.

There is only one thing in the way of reverting to knee pants and that is that it is common sense. We have noticed when there is a clash between tradition and common sense, or custom and common sense, old C. S. gets the worst of it.

We shall probably continue wearing long trousers, together with using the antiquated calendar and the pounds, shilling and pence and the pounds and ounces to which we are accustomed.

Tomorrow—Common Sense And Prohibition.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

POLO AND "TOMMY"

When the British and American Four played the 1927 International Polo Games at Meadow Brook, the bright particular star of the games was Thomas Hitchcock Junior. It was his dash and forward play that counted most in the scoring of the American team. It was not always thus. Back in the bygone days when "Tommy" was playing at Coronado, California, he was just as dashing, but not so sure. Neither was he always where he should be.

I remember watching a game which he played upon a Coronado team captained by Major Colin Ross, the father of California polo. Major Ross is an irascible Scotchman, and played goal on the polo field. His language was often more emphatic than polite, especially in the heat of an exciting "chucker". Tommy had not been at any time during the game where the Major expected him to be, and it was "Tommy this", and "Tommy that" and "Tommy all over the place" with the Major. His upbraidings were clearly heard at all times by the spectators.

The Major always played his position very much as Devereux Milburn plays it. There are times when he deserted the guardianship of the goal and carried the ball himself down the field. In this game he had just rescued the ball from an opposing player at the goal posts, and driving the ball forward, he was riding hard behind it. He expected Tommy, who was playing forward, to be at his appointed place and take the ball. Tommy wasn't there. With a mighty swat the Major lifted the ball at the goal over the heads of the opposing riders, and high above the thud of the ponies' feet and the creaking of the leathers came the Major's staccatic call, "God damn it, Tommy, where are you!"

The Major's polo history is interesting. He was the youngest son of a Scot family and left the family home early in life, as is the custom of British younger sons, to make his fortune in the colonies. He came to Canada and eventually became head of the Northwest Mounted. He introduced polo to Canada, and he tells me that many a time he hitched two of his ponies to a buckboard and led the other two behind and drove 50 miles to a polo match. He would ride his four ponies through the eight chuckers of the match and drive back to the barracks of the Mounted that evening.

When it is considered that there were one hundred and fifteen ponies used by the eight men playing in the last International Polo Match at Meadow Brook, it may be remarked that more was expected of horse flesh in the good old days than today.

Incidentally, "Tommy" Hitchcock can thank Major Ross for much.

Just Folks

HE WOULDN'T DIM HIS LIGHTS

Anger and hate are cruel tools,
As all men find when their temper cools,
And as one man found to his deep dismay,
By driving at night in a selfish way.

"Dim your lights!" was a cry he heard
From a passing car, and his rage was stirred.
And he muttered low to himself: "I won't!
Why should I dim when the others don't?"

Round the bend came a car and he,
Though knowing the other man couldn't see,
Held to the road with his lights agleam,
'Till he felt a crash and he heard a scream.

'Twas on his lips as he scrambled out,
"I'm not to blame for this thing," to shout,
But his cheeks turned white and his throat went raw,
As his own son stretched on the ground he saw.

"Boy!" he cried. "Have I injured you?
I had no idea you were driving through?"
The lad looked up. "Was that you ahead?
Your headlight blinded me, dad!" he said.

WATCHES AND MEN

Some time ago, in this column, I told of stories I had heard about men on whom watches would not keep time. I stated that scientific folk had told me there was nothing of truth in this belief that a watch will keep good time on Jones but will act erratically on Smith, the same kind of care being given to the watch by both men. I asked whether any of my readers could offer experience as a guide in solving the question.

I have this from D. L. Barber, Goshen, Connecticut: "Dear Mr. Driscoll: I read with interest what you say about watches. You say you have never heard direct testimony on the subject.

"Back in the seventies I owned a watch that kept as perfect time as any watch could possibly keep. I sold it to my brother. In his pocket it would either gain or lose four or five minutes a day. He wanted me to take it back. I did so. It ran perfectly while I carried it, so we began changing off. I would carry it a week or two; then he would take his turn.

"In his pocket it would go on its sprees again. We tried this changing back and forth nearly a dozen times, with the same results. Finally we consulted a jeweler in New Britain, Conn., where we lived at that time. He explained that it was the difference in magnetism in the two men that caused the trouble. I do not know whether his diagnosis was correct.

"The fact remains that the watch was very much O. K. in my pocket, and decidedly N. G. in my brother's pocket.

"I am willing to make an oath to this."

This is very interesting to me. I shall not fail to call it to the attention of my scientific friends.

What really caused the watch to act that way? I do not know. Magnetism, the jeweler said. But did the jeweler know? And what is magnetism? The word is very loosely used to signify a great many things. What does it mean when it is used in this way? I am afraid the jeweler couldn't tell very precisely.

I would like very much to hear of other authenticated cases of this kind, if there are any. Another thing. The opinion and experience of an intelligent jeweler who has handled many watches ought to help clarify this matter.

Maybe we'll have something to tell the scientific folk if we can collect enough evidence.

Badger Making Great Success In Caponizing Fowls

Highland Avenue Butcher Says Caponizing Is Boon To Poultry Business

An unusual exhibit of caponized fowls attracted considerable attention at the New Castle Fair this year. The exhibit was under charge of J. L. Badger of Highland avenue, who has unusual success in caponizing fowls the past few years.

Mr. Badger who has a progressive butcher shop on the corner of Boyles and Highland avenue has found time outside of his regular business to caponize over 3300 fowls and is reputed to have had the best success at this new venture of anyone in this part of the country.

Much has been said recently in the press concerning the great advantages there is gained in both weight and quality of the meat of poultry that has been caponized.

Mr. Badger has been caponizing fowls since 1916 when he made his first experiment. In an amused manner he related his first attempt, when without any training he started on 16 birds and when he finished he had made one successful operation and 15 birds lay dead.

Mr. Badger has been experimenting with caponizing pullets as well as the cockerels and several of these on exhibition at the recent local fair. He has 300 caponized fowls at his brother's home on the old Pittsburgh road, and is watching the growth that these birds are making since caponized.

Many talks on the operation and advantages to the poultrymen from caponizing has been made by Mr. Badger and he shows himself very willing to help and advise all those who are interested. One can easily tell that he is "sold" on the proposition and has seen and done enough of the work that he is convinced of the great advantage and has the statistics to demonstrate to others the worth of the business.

Many weird stories have been told regarding capons, says Mr. Badger, and the enormous profits that has been made by the raising of profits. Some will endeavor to lead one to believe that a fortune can be made in a short time and with a few birds. Mr. Badger said that such statements are misleading, yet he is convinced that by caponizing cockerels at the proper time each bird will bring the owner a profit of from 65c to $1.65 more than if it was allowed to run as a cockerel and kept until the proper time for killing them.

He is certain, he says, that if caponizing was in vogue in this community that it would give the producer at least 5c per pound more for his cockerels and the dealer would make the same profit while the consumer would have a better piece of poultry on his table for the same money.

Mr. Badger says that he believes that caponizing is just as big a boom to poultry industry as that of scientific egg production has been.

How I get whiter, sweeter clothes

from my washing machine

UNTIL I tried Rinso, I never dreamt I could get such white and bright clothes from my washer.

And so easily, too! For now, no matter how soiled the clothes are, I never have to do a bit of hard rubbing, as I used to.

Even the most soiled cuffs, collar bands, hems, rompers, etc., come out so much whiter than ever before. And ordinary stains simply vanish.

Rinso saves money, too. For now I never have to buy bar soaps, chips or powders. Rinso is all I need. It makes our water so soft and sudsy.

I can easily understand why the makers of 30 leading washers endorse Rinso. Just try it next washday!

New Castle Artists At Bessemer Tonight

At Bessemer high school auditorium this evening, a number of well known New Castle artists will present a concert under the auspices of an organization of that place.

The widely known quartet consisting of Mrs. John Evans, Mrs. Henry Badger, George Anthony and Harry Evans will present quite a number of selection in their well-known manner. This is the quartet which won the quartet event in the Youngstown Eisteddfod this year, which indicates their standing in musical circles.

The accompanist of the evening will be Edwin Lewis of this city, who is one of the best known pianists of the community. He will present a number of piano solo numbers. The other member of the party will be Mrs. Frances Jones Hoke, who is fast becoming known as one of the best readers of the district.

This same group of artists is scheduled to give a concert in Ellwood City in November.

E. J. Berquist At Reformed Church

Tonight the usual Bible Class Study will be held at the City Mission. Service beginning at 7:30 with Frank Geiger teaching the Bible lesson.

Next Sabbath morning, October the 9th E. J. Berquist, superintendent of the City Mission will speak at the morning service in the Reformed Presbyterian church in the interest of the City Mission.

The First Christian church troop 15, Boy Scouts of America, will hold their weekly meeting tonight in the church.

Plans will be completed for several things, notably the good turns and the round-up.

All members are urged to be present, as this is an important meeting. They should bring their manuals and be in full uniform.

Scoutmaster Sidney Smith and Assistant Scoutmaster George McCracken will be in charge.

TROOP 21

Troop 21 of the St. Paul's Lutheran church will have a corn roast this evening, according to J. R. Dunfee, scoutmaster.

The troop will meet at the church at 6 o'clock, and from there they will hike into the country to hold the roast.

Annual Parish Supper At Trinity Church

Annual Parish supper of Trinity Episcopal church will be an event Thursday evening, October 27 at 6:30, in the Guild room. Bishop Overs, a most gifted speaker and prominent in missionary work will be the special guest of the evening. He will speak on the work of missions in foreign fields.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

With the agencies that are in use today, it is but a very few minutes after the world's series games are played that everybody in this district that is interested is familiar with the outcome of the game. In years gone by there were calls in this newspaper office until well into the night by persons seeking to know the outcome of the games, but nowadays the calls cease shortly after the games have been concluded.

North Mercer street, between North and Falls streets, is being resurfaced today. The street has been widened and will be in fine shape for the opening of The Castleton and for the arrival of a host of visitors in this city next week for the state convention.

We hope that everybody in New Castle and Lawrence county read the communication in The News last night concerning the conduct of some persons in large audiences that gather in this city. There was a lot of truth in the communication. While for the most part the audiences here are excellently behaved, now and then we have found just such persons as those complained of in the letter, persons who seem to think that they are attending a kensington or something of that nature when they are in the audience at a recital or dramatic program.

Numerous reports have been made recently that the flooring of the Mill street bridge is skiddy in wet weather. Might it not be covered with something to make it less a traffic hazard?

New Castle folks are urged to decorate their places of business and homes next week for the State Sabbath school convention. Put out your American flags and use other appropriate decorations to greet the host of visitors to our city. Likewise, every store and downtown place of business should be lighted up at night during the week. There is nothing that gives a poorer impression of a city at night than to find here and there a store front that is not lighted.

Children of the county school districts are anticipating a vacation next week, while children of the New Castle school districts are looking with longing and regret at the same week. Because of the county teacher's institute there will be no school sessions in Lawrence county, outside of New Castle, during the week. New Castle teachers are not included in the institute.

Fewer New Castle residents secured seats to the world's series games in Pittsburgh this year than at the series two years ago, it is indicated by reports that are reaching Pa Newc.

Owen P. Fox, well-known nature study exponent and artist, dropped into Pa Newc's office this morning with a problem for the community. Carrying a fan-shaped leaf, he said that he had been unable to find anyone who could tell what kind of a tree it came from. And the peculiar part of the whole thing, he said, was that the leaf was from a tree on the New Castle Public Square, and that there are five trees of the same kind on the square. What kind of trees are they?

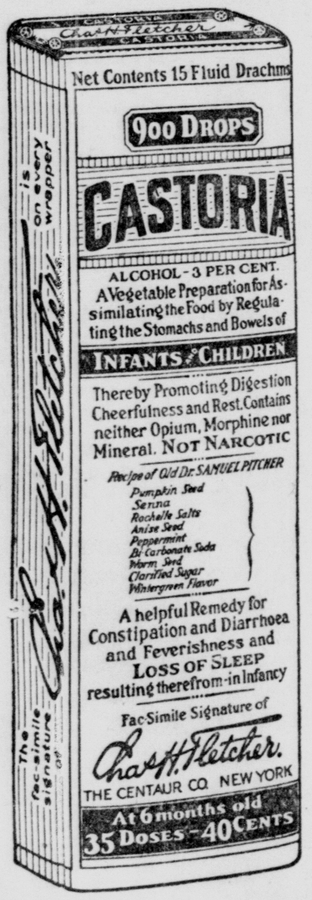
THIS is a topic we all hear now-a-days because so many people are inclined to exaggerate. Yet has any physician told you that we claimed unreasonable remedial properties for Fletcher's Castoria? Just ask them. We won't answer it ourselves, we know what the answer will be.

That it has all the virtues to-day that were claimed for it in its early days is to be found in its increased use, the recommendation by prominent physicians, and our assurance that its standard will be maintained.

Fletcher's Castoria is strictly a remedy for Infants and Children. Honestly advertised as such, without a claim for more than its over 30 years of use have amply proven. A Baby's remedy for Babies. And not an adult's remedy for all the family and all the ails that human flesh is heir to.



Children Cry For

CASTORIA

Special Care of Baby.

That Baby should have a bed of its own all are agreed. Yet it is more reasonable for an infant to sleep with grown-ups than to use a man's medicine in an attempt to regulate the delicate organism of that same infant. Either practice is to be shunned. Neither would be tolerated by specialists in children's diseases.

Your Physician will tell you that Baby's medicine must be prepared with even greater care than Baby's food.

A Baby's stomach when in good health is too often disarranged by improper food. Could you for a moment, then, think of giving to your ailing child anything but a medicine especially prepared for Infants and Children? Don't be deceived.

Make a mental note of this:—It is important, Mothers, that you should remember that to function well, the digestive organs of your Baby must receive special care. No Baby is so abnormal that the desired results may be had from the use of medicines primarily prepared for grown-ups.

NO SATURATION

Those who are nervous about the increasing number of motor cars and talk so much about the traffic saturation point ought to study the road situation. Not more than 10 per cent of the three million miles of roads in this country are in good condition. In fact we have little more than 250,000 miles of hard surfaced roads. With rapid building of good roads automobile traffic will be nothing to worry about.

THE "FEEL" OF BUSINESS

Midsummer is a dull time in many lines, and there has been some complaint about business or the lack of it. But with autumn at hand there is a new "feel" in the air and in business. Times are not bad and have not been. There has been temporary dullness—and that period gives promise of being on the way out.

THE GREAT COLLEGE

The Great College will not be a trade school, or a school for any kind of vocational training. Neither will it be a fossilized institution where the time is given to learning names, places and dates. It will not be a place where the student will endeavor to take on a store of learning which he will find inapplicable to life when he gets out in the world. The Great College will prepare young men and women to face the problems of life. It will prepare them for living thoughtfully. It will teach them the value of a human being and what the possibilities of the human being in this world are.

You can't beat the human spirit. The healthiest men and women love adventure the most. The call of danger will always be answered by the world's leaders.

Grove City Sophs Elect Officers

GROVE CITY, Pa., Oct. 6.—Montgomery Lance of Pittsburgh was elected president of the sophomore class of Grove City College at a meeting of the class yesterday.

Other officers elected for the coming year included the following: vice president, Janet Jackson of Apollo; secretary, Adah Armstrong of Branchton; treasurer, Virginia Campbell of Corry; representatives to the student council, Marcus Rankin of Uniontown and Ruth Daubenspeck of Avalon; representatives to the athletic council, John Ryan of Canton, O.

PETER'S ADVENTURES in ANIMAL LAND

BY MRS. FLORENCE SMITH VINCENT

SEEING THINGS

Peter whistled to keep up his courage, and at first he did very well. But it is no fun sitting all alone by oneself in the heart of a woods with night drawing on, and after a while Peter began to feel less cheerful.

"Wish someone would come along to keep a fellow company," said he. "Don't suppose it is very late in the afternoon, but 'way in here, where the sun can't come, the night is going to be long; it will grow dark so early. Hello! Who's that over in the hollow at the bottom of the beech tree!"

Scarcely had Peter spoken when he found himself staring at an empty hole. Peter rubbed his eyes—then laughed.

"Nothing there at all," chuckled he. "Guess a shadow played a trick on me. Gee willikens! Surely someone is standing behind that tree trunk. Come on out, fellow; I see you!"

However, nobody stepped in sight at his call and, now that Peter stared more intently at the tree, he could see that it stood alone.

"Guess I'm seeing things," muttered he. "I must stop right now or there will be no end to it.

"But, no, I am not imagining. There is a whiskered face over there, and another younder, and still another peeping over that flat stone! Ssh! What's that noise? If it were louder I'd think someone was coming. Must be leaves rustling!"

THE BOY TURNED AND RAN AS FAST AS HE COULD FROM THE DREADFUL THINGS THAT PURSUED.

Peter jumped to his feet and cupped his ear to listen.

Pit-pat-pit! Pit-pat-pit! Not leaves at all, but footsteps, and coming straight toward him. He was alone, lost and unprotected. Who could it be? What could he do? Where should he go He must hide, but how?

Nearer and nearer drew the pattering feet. Now it seemed as though there were many of them, as though the Great Woods itself and all the people that lived within it were coming after him.

And Peter was afraid.

He turned and ran as fast as he could away from the dreadful things that pursued.

He bumped into a tree; he scraped his arm on a sharp branch that jutted out in his path; he tumbled headfirst over a root that lay hidden in the leaves; he dodged an animal or two that, frightened, ran from the mad stranger in their midst; he started Mother Partridge and her babies from their safe retreat behind a fallen log; but he kept on and on and on, until at last he tripped and fell, hitting his head so hard that for a moment he knew nothing at all.

Next—"At the Rabbit Hole."

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil as a substitute for calomel to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about that natural buoyance which all should enjoy by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are known by their olive color. 15c, 30c and 60c.

National Guards Contest Is Closed

Griffith Leads Entire Outfit; Followed By Fresh And Zupen

GROVE CITY, Pa., Oct. 6.—Last Thursday concluded the first month of the big attendance contest which is being carried out by the Headquarters Company of the 112th Infantry, Pennsylvania National Guard, and the results have been posted showing the standing of individuals, squads and sections, for the five drill nights of September.

The contest includes attendance and personal appearance, with a possible 100 per cent each night. Eleven men have an average, for the five drills, of 90 per cent or over. Private "Jim" Griffith leads the whole company with an average of 93 per cent, closely followed by Sergeants Fresh and Zupen, who have a mark of 92 per cent. Sergeants Cornelius and Johnson are tied with 91 per cent and seven are next with 90 per cent, including Sergeants Hamilton, McCandless and Corporals McNeish, Meyers and Privates Fresh and C. Soday.

Corporal McNeish's squad has the squad high average, with a percentage of 65, and Corporal Husband's squad is second with 57 per cent. The section in charge of Sergeants Cornelius and Fresh, which includes the squad of Corporals McNeish and Macininch, has the high section average of 62 per cent.

The contest, which began with the first drill night of September, will run until the night of federal inspection, early in February. Captain Poehlman, commander of the company, has announced a number of prizes which will be awarded to the winners of the individual, squad and section divisions.

Plan Of Communists To Invade Labor Federation Convention Foiled

COMMUNIST LEADER IS UNDER CUSTODY

By ARTHUR L. MAREK
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 6.—Communism raised its head on the American Federation of Labor convention, only to be crushed beneath the heels of the police.

Well laid plans of communists to invade the big labor conclave in session here were thwarted today by the arrest of Sidney Bush and the placing of 30 other known communists under police surveillance.

Bush was held on suspicion of criminal syndicalism and accused of attempting to spread communist propaganda among the convention delegates.

Documents seized in his possession revealed that he was under orders to direct the activities of a steering committee to obtain the passage of radical resolutions in the convention.

Among papers found in his possession, police reported, was a communication from William Z. Foster, secretary of the communist party of America, with headquarters in Chicago.

Two suspected communists, one of whom had attempted to be seated in the convention, were named in letters to Bush and were to do his bidding. Both were detained by police but later released.

Arrested Before

When officers of the police intelligence bureau arrested Bush they said he tried to dispose of communist credentials by quickly handing them to a former organizer of the party, who had been attending the convention daily.

A number of inflammatory resolutions, one of them protesting armed intervention in China and calling attention to a widespread alliance for war against the soviet union, were said to have been in Bush's possession.

Police said Bush had been arrested here a number of times on criminal syndicalism charges.

Despite barriers raised against radical influences convention officials said a defiant communist lobby was being maintained at the convention. The work of the lobbyists was said to be directed from San Francisco headquarters of the communist party in California.

Bad Teeth Will Poison Your Whole System

A great array of troubles are traceable to the teeth. Many a man thinks he is the victim of rheumatism, or gout, whereas in reality, it is pyorreah, infection of the teeth, that is causing the trouble.

If you are troubled by pain—by unknown misery, have an X-ray taken of your teeth. That will soon disclose the infection if it exists. It will then be easy to treat the trouble. Be sure—and then you'll be safe. Don't go on suffering when the remedy is so near at hand.

At this office we'll take care of you. We have the X-ray apparatus, and the expert skill to work it. We'll diagnose your case and suggest the proper cure.

Young People's Sunday School Conference To Take Place November 4, 5 And 6

Young People's State Regional Sunday school conference will be held in Grove City November 4, 5, 6. Among those appearing on the program is the well-known state superintendent, Rev. Edward H. Bonsall Jr. For six years Mr. Bonsall has traveled over the state and spoken to young people. He is unusually keen and alive to the problems that youth are facing today, and is well qualified to speak.

At the request of a group of young people Mr. Bonsall is going to give a course on "Home Ideals". This will be a discourse upon the fundamental things that are necessary in the building of a fine Christian home.

Miss Letitia Brown, formerly president of the State Young People's Council, and now the Associate State Young People's superintendent, will have charge of the worship services of the conferences. Miss Brown is a recent graduate of Wooster College, where she held many honors, including student council and May queen.

For more information and registration cards, write to Howard Cox, Edenburg. The registration fee of three dollars will cover entertainment and meals.

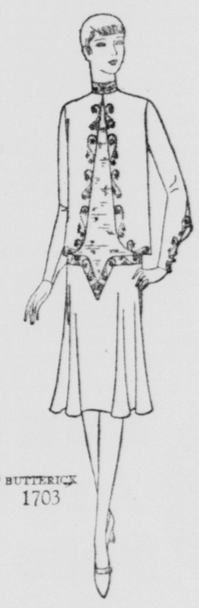
THERE'S a gay profusion of new styles this season, frocks for every occasion and every age. And in all of them Fashion insists upon the equal importance of smart lines and smart materials.

BUTTERICK 1695

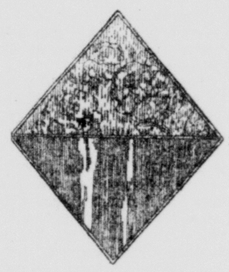


1695. The evening gown finds that a snug girdle and plaited or plain godets at the side front give charming effect to a handsome silk crepe, velvet or metallic fabric.

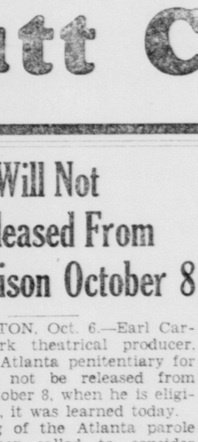
1703. When the bolero jacket is removed this smart afternoon frock becomes an equally smart dinner dress, having a sleeveless bodice attached in a pointed outline to the front-flared skirt.

1711. A charming frock for any daytime occasion features the new sun-ray tucks and circular flares, developing its beautifully simple lines in one of the silk crepes or light weight wools.

1689. The important new fashion of trimming frocks with bands of the fabric applied in interesting lines is smartly expressed in this dress of silk or wool, designed for sizes 32 to 37.

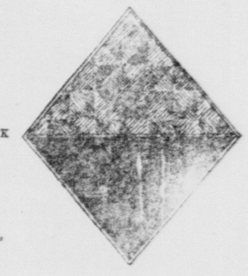


BUTTERICK 1703



BUTTERICK 1711

BUTTERICK 1689



NOW, when more than ever before smartness is so essentially a matter of lovely fabrics and individual fitting, the discriminating woman comes more and more to prefer frocks made in the styles and materials that she herself has chosen. At our Butterick Pattern Department she finds all the authentic new modes of Paris, presented in the most serviceable form for her ready use. And at our Piece Goods Department she finds just the right materials, in the becoming colors and handsome quality that give her frocks such smartness.

Rev. W. E. McClure To Preach On Satan

Two sermons of more than usual interest will be presented Sabbath in the First Presbyterian church by the pastor. In the morning the theme will be "Twentieth Century Church Problems." In this message the pastor will mention at least six problems that have developed for the church within the last 25 years.

The evening sermon will be the first in a series on "Satan." Throughout the series such questions as the following will be considered and answered. His Origin? His Sin? His Fall? His Work? His Method? His Present Location? His Fears? His Limitations? His Victories? His Defeats? His Final Doom?

The first sermon will deal especially with His Origin and His Sin.

Second Recital On Cathedral Organ

While the crowd in the Scottish Rite Cathedral on Wednesday night was not as large as the one on the night previous, the enthusiasm for the organ recital presented by Firmin Swinnen was as great proportionately.

Mr. Swinnen presented a recital in the afternoon and a concluding recital in the evening. It was the third of the dedicatory recitals for the Greer Memorial Organ which was given to the Cathedral by the late George Greer.

Trades And Labor Hold Open House

Boxing, eats and a general good time will be on the program tonight at the Trades and Labor Assembly hall on North Mill street, when the assembly holds open house.

For the entertainment of members and their guests, several bouts have been arranged for, which will be the high spots in the entertainment for the evening.

Ceremonies will start promptly at 6 o'clock, when dinner will be served.

Bridge Hearing Before Viewers

There is considerable interest being manifested in the hearing to be held Friday morning at 9 o'clock in the county court house before the viewers appointed in the matter of the proposed Lawrence street bridge over the Neshannock creek to relieve traffic in the downtown section. It is expected that there will be a large group of interested people in attendance at the hearing.

Activities Starting At Local Y. W. C. A.

Reducing Class Will Begin Next Week, While Other Classes Start Soon

Of course every one knows that health, efficiency and happiness depend almost entirely on the condition of the physical body.

Yet how few people give the thought, time, and care to the body that will make it strong and enduring throughout life.

As a general rule young people are healthful but what happens when the ages of 50 and 60 are reached. We all know what often results. Sickness, arterio sclerosis, strokes, etc. And very often because time was not given earlier in life to the proper care of the physical body.

You should have regular physical activity if you wish to live long and well. So why not join a gym class at the Y. W. C. A.

We have volley ball a non strenuous exercise but good recreation.

We have reducing classes strenuous or not as you desire.

We have basketball, tennis, etc.

Due to no call in the past seasons for a regular gym class we have had none. However there seems to be some desire for one now. Therefore on the registration of 12 persons we will be glad to organize such a class.

Reducing Classes.

Did you who are overweight, that is exceptionally overweight, ever attempt to take out a policy for life incurance?

If not you are unacquainted with the difficulties that arise. The insurance companies know after years of experience and the collecting of many statistics that they run a far greater risk when filling out a policy for one who is overweight than when they fill out a policy for one who tips the scales at a number near the normal weight. Normal weight means what you should weigh according to your height and age. If you are ten or more pounds above normal weight the time has arrived for you to get busy. And here is your opportunity.

Join a Y. W. C. A. reducing class where you will receive instructions for an intelligent and safe reducing program. Would you lose? Yes, indeed if you follow instructions. Hundreds of ponnds have been lost in these classes.

The morning class begins Wednesday October 12 and the evening class starts Thursday October 13. Call the Y. W. 748 for information.

Carroll Will Not Be Released From Prison October 8

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—Earl Carroll, New York theatrical producer, sentenced to Atlanta penitentiary for perjury, will not be released from prison on October 8, when he is eligible for parole, it was learned today.

No meeting of the Atlanta parole board has been called to consider Carroll's case. Justice department officials, however, said that a special meeting for this purpose would take place within 30 days.

SMALL FIRE

Awning of the Edwards Shoppe on Washington street was slightly damaged last night, when some person threw a lighted cigarette on it. The firemen were called by an alarm from box 26 at 9:25 p. m. The loss was slight.

BESSEMER STUDENTS CERTAINLY KEEP BUSY

(Special To The News)

BESSEMER, Pa., Oct. 6.—The last two days of this week promise to be unusually exciting. The first six weeks' exams are being printed and will be handed out Thursday and Friday. This set of tests is coming a week earlier than usual because of the Teachers' Institute week. Exam week never does bring much joy but it certainly does separate the worthy from the unworthy.

Institute

The students are all looking forward eagerly to their week of vacation during Teachers' Institute. Everyone has something special planned. One lad thinks that institute was planned specially for this season of the year just so he could go nutting. Others have planned late camping trips or visits to out of town friends.

Attendance

September attendance record shows the percentage of attendance to be 98.5 for Bessemer schools. There were very few cases of tardiness during the month. Both faculty and students are working to make the month of October more nearly perfect as to attendance.

Chapel

The chapel program, so far this year, have been very good, and the program of last week was no exception to the rule.

The school orchestra, of course, was there, but it did not furnish all the music. Miss Smith and her "Jolly Songsters," awakened the school to the fact that a number of our girls are quite talented singers. If you want to hear something good just ask one of these girls to repeat that little tune about "Twilight." Frank and Joe Stanich produced such splendid instrumental duets that they were encored again and again.

Miss Martin, who had arranged the program for the chapel period had invited Rev. C. J. Williamson, of New Castle, to make an address. Rev. Williamson's talk concerning the good and bad uses of the tongue was one of the most interesting and educational speeches ever delivered from Bessemer High platform. His explanation of the original and present meaning of the word "shibboleth" was used throughout the talk. His address contained just enough humor to make attention easy. Each illustration and thought seemed to strike home. Students left the assembly determined to make a stand for the standards they wished to follow.

Attendance At Fair

Bessemer schools were not dismissed for the New Castle Fair, however, attendance at the Fair was a legal excuse for absence from classes. The many students who took advantage of this excuse returned reporting an educational and enjoyable day. Since then the English class oral reports have been filled with thrilling incidents experienced at the Fair.

Examine Students

Dr. Campbell has just completed the physical examination of the six hundred Bessemer students. In his examination the teeth, heart, eyes, and hearing were tested. Those students who were in any way defective are being warned to have corrections made immediately. Bessemer has been carrying on such a health program in the schools for several years and the results have shown it to be well worth while.

Concert

Thursday evening, October 6, the Welsh Entertainers, of New Castle, are coming to Bessemer to present an entertainment in the High School auditorium. This is the first concert of the season and should draw a large audience. The entertainment is being sponsored by the Women's Home Missionary Society of the Bessemer Presbyterian church. The program will be begun promptly at eight o'clock.

To Hear Band

Friday afternoon the musically inclined students of Bessemer High are going to New Castle to hear the Navy Band. A bus has been hired and arrangements are made for about fifty students.

Librarian

Harold Swanson, the former librarian of the Bessemer Public Library, has begun attending classes in the Youngstown Y. M. C. A. College. In order to carry on his college work he resigned his position as librarian and the position was given to Miss Marybelle McClelland. Three evenings a week the library is open to the public: Monday from 7 to 9; Wednesday from 4 to 6; and Friday from 3:30 to 4:30. Come and get a book.

Game Saturday

2:30 o'clock, Saturday, Oct. 8, will see the beginning of an epic duel between the Bessemer High warriors and the Benjamin Franklin shopmen.

Although last Saturday's game nearly ended in grief, the Bessemer team is determined to see to it that the battle this week will be a real one. The fact that the team was slow last Saturday has merely strengthened the resolution of eleven men that Ben Franklin will have to exert some real pressure to carry off the laurels.

It is expected that Coach Allen will give those that were in last week's lineup, another chance to prove the stuff of which they are made.

Those on the sidelines of the Bessemer gridiron, Saturday, will see eleven black and red demons ready to pounce upon Ben Franklin.

Arts and Crafts Club

One of the most interesting activities of Bessemer High is the Arts and Crafts Club. During the year the members will be given instruction along the line of painting and basket weaving.

This week most of the thirty members are applying the second coat of enamel to old, otherwise discarded, olive and pickle jars. Many and various are the colors which have been chosen to brighten up the these old bottles. The next activity period will be devoted to designing and finishing the jars. Upon completion one will never recognize the old jars in their new forms as flower vases, powder containers, and dresser ornaments.

This unique club is under the supervision of Miss Mary McLaughlin, the Domestic Arts teacher.

GUILD GIRLS

The Guild Girls of the Presbyterian church had a call meeting Monday night at the home of Mrs. R. R. Throop.

The main object of the meeting was to plan for the open night meeting for Sunday evening, October 9. The program was completed during the meeting. It consists of the reports from the representatives who were sent to Wooster during the summer, also four reports from "The Unfinished Task in Taiku," a bit of news from the station at which the missionary Clara Hedberg is working.

After the business part of the meeting was over the girls sang songs and had a regular good time.

A Three Days' Cough Is Your Danger Signal

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

Sentence Sermons

By Rev. Roy D. Smith, D. D.

I MUST HAVE—

Something to hold in reverence if life is to retain it's dignity.
Something to sacrifice for if life is not to become empty.
Something to love if life is not to turn to bitterness.
Something to work at if I am to keep my self-respect.
Something to look forward to if I am to make progress.
Something to think about if old age is to be endurable.
Something to worship if life is to become worth while.

Sciatic-Neuritis

The sciatic nerve, situated at the back of the hip joint is frequently the subject of Neuritis, giving rise to the painful disease Sciatica. The symptoms are intense pains which shoot down the thigh to the foot, often aggravated by walking, and with painful points along the course of the nerve, very tender to the touch.

The trouble is a very obstinate one and does not readily respond to ordinary treatment. It takes more than the usual pain sedative even to alleviate the pain. The best way to get relief from the persistent nerve racking pains of Neuritis is to get a bottle of Allenrhu Special Formula No. 2, which comes in capsule form. Take them as directed and in about 24 hours you should be able to notice that they have considerably reduced, if not almost banished, all pain and soreness. Continue faithfully and in a reasonable time you should be able to work and rest in comfort once again. McKee's Kut Rate keeps Allenrhu Special Formula No. 2 in stock all the time and sells lots of it.

State Convention Shield Awards To Be Displayed

Local Civic Clubs To Present Shields To Delegations At Convention

Displays in the windows of the Lawrence Savings and Trust company for the few days preceeding the convention of the Pennsylvania State Sabbath School association will be the shields which will be awarded to the various counties by the Kiwanis, the Rotary and the Lions clubs of New Castle.

These shields are very beautiful in appearance says Robert M. Strickler, president of the Lawrence County Sabbath Schcol association and the winning delegations should be proud to own them.

The first shield which will be awarded by the Rotary club is to go to one of the three adjoining counties—Butler, Beaver or Mercer—having the largest delegation at the convention.

The second shield, presented by the Kiwanis club will be given to the Sabbath school in Lawrence county having the largest number of delegates at the convention. This will be a percentage count, based on the enrollments of the different schools.

To the county outside of Butler, Beaver, Lawrence and Mercer having the largest delegation at the convention will go the third shield presented by the Lions club. Consideration will be taken of the distance traveled and the enrollment of the county.

As the program for Wednesday October 12 appeared in the paper several days before the balance of the program a number of inquiries have been made by persons not seeing this part of the affair. Many telephone calls have been coming in as to whether Dr. F. B. Meyer, the great London minister had cancelled his engagement.

For the information of those and others, Mr. Strickler wishes to emphasize the poine that Dr. Meyer will deliver the sermon Wednesday, October 12, at 11:15 a. m.

In referring to Margaret Slattery, woman evangelist who is to speak before the assembly Thursday morning and Friday evening the October number of the Pennsylvania Herald, religious monthly, has the following to say:

"Possibly no woman speaker in America has had the privilege to do platform work and speak in as many countries than Miss Margaret Slattery of Boston. Trained for a teacher Miss Slattery finds it necessary to give her whole time to writing and speaking.

"Every alternate year for a long time Miss Slattery has addressed the Sabbath school convention. Her inspirational addresses and articles of interest to young people are unique."

The future usually becomes the past without anything happening.

Will your skin bear close scrutiny?

Skilled physicians recognize the appearance of pimples, boils and other skin eruptions as being an indication of an abnormal condition of the system. This is why so many thousands have been enabled to free themselves of these unsightly blemishes and painful annoyances by taking a course of S.S.S.

You owe it to yourself to try S.S.S. It helps Nature build up red corpuscles. It improves the processes by which the blood is nourished.

"I was troubled with pimples and blackheads. Had a skin eruption. Was nervous and had lost weight. After taking a course of S.S.S., I gained in weight; got rid of my nervousness; and my skin cleared up. I think S.S.S. is a most wonderful blood medicine. Several of my friends are taking it for the same reason I did." Miss Margaret Frye, Lapel, Ind.

S.S.S. is made from the fresh roots of medicinal herbs and plants, and is prepared in a scientific way in a modern laboratory. It is time-tried and reliable.

S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

Auditor Says New Hotel Is Real Surprise

Head Of Accounting System For American Hotels May Locate Here

THE CASTLETON TO HAVE NEW PHONES

Continental Type Of Phones To Be Installed In Lobby Of Hotel

Murray L. Judkins, general auditor for the American Hotels Corporation arrived in New Castle last evening to set up accounts and see that all accounting arrangements are placed in their proper order prior to the opening of The Castleton the week of October 24.

He was accompanied and will be assisted by Phil Gatley and Charles Harper, traveling auditors for the American chain.

When he first saw The Castleton Mr. Judkins expressed gerat admiration for the house and was particularly struck with the practical arrangements in all of the departments.

Mr. Judkins travels most of the time between the 29 houses in the American chain and he declared that he liked The Castleton best of them all. In fact he is considering seriously making The Castleton his permanent headquarters.

In keeping with the latest hotel practice John L. Slack, manager of The Castleton states that in the lobby there will be a Continental type of telephones installed. These are the ones with the mouthpiece and the receiver in one unit and are much more convenient than the old fashioned desk telephone.

"We are determined to have the finest in equipment that we can get" averred Mr. Slack "and we are waving all thoughts of cost aside so as to make The Castleton one of the finest hotels of its size in the whole country.

Another innovation in New Castle will be the scrubbing machine which does the work of five men and will be used to keep the lobby and corridor floors clean. According to Manager Slack it cleans the floor thoroughly in one operation. It will also be used to wax and polish the beautiful terrazzo floors in the lobby of the hotel.

Toy Orchestra To Give Entertainment

County Superintendent of Schools, John C. Syling, announced this morning that the toy orchestra of the Shenango-Taylor joint school, will give an entertainment at the Lawrence County Teachers Institute on next Wednesday at 1 p. m. The toy orchestra, which is composed of children who play on toy instruments, is said to be one of the most novel musical organizations in this section.

Expect Decisions In Local Cases Before January

City Solicitor White Argues Two City Cases Before Supreme Court

Attorney Robert White has returned from Pittsburgh where he represented the city in actions before the state supreme court, concerning the Withers and Gilfillan cases. Decisions will be handed down about Christmas, according to the city's attorney.

According to Solicitor White ten years ago Withers erected a block in South Mill street for Mrs. Withers and according to White "he violated the plumbing code' 'insisting the code was wrong.

In order to get a test case White says he violated it and installed what he thought was sanitary plumbing. The city according to White, thought otherwise.

Case Appealed.

The city sought a mandatory injunction to force the removal of the plumbing and to make him put in plumbing according to the code. The local court made a decree that ordered him to remove the plumbing, White declares.

Withers appealed and the case was argued yesterday by Attorneys A. M. Graham and the firm of Gilfillan and Patterson who were associated with the Withers case. White represented the city.

The attorneys raised several important questions one of which was that they could not be compelled to remove the plumbing and that the court could only impose a fine.

The most important question raised however was the constitutionality of the state act. The attorneys argued that it is unconstitutional and that it takes property without due process of law.

Gilfillan Case

In the Gilfillan case the question involved is whether or not a man who has a lumber yard in a district where lumber yards are prohibited can add to and increase it, White explained.

There is no question in the world the solicitor said that if a man has a lumber yard or any other business that is not actually a nuisance why he cannot run it as he has been.

White argued however that he cannot add to or increase it. Attorney Gilfillan argued that he can.

One way to make a dollar go a long way is to wire home for more.

Claim Big Boys Take Trousers Off Of Smaller Lads

Bad boy calls are now proving the bane of the police department. There is from one to half a dozen such calls every day and the unfortunate part about it is the fact that there are so many evidences of actual vandalism in most of the calls investigated.

From the Young street district here came a call this morning to the effect that boys last night went the length of the street, taking milk bottles and throwing them and their contents away.

Another interesting call from the North Hill district was that of irate mothers, who told of larger boys capturing the smaller boys, taking off their pants and hanging them on telephone poles and other high points, where the owners were unable to get them.

The police will take action to put a stop to these offenses and will punish some of the perpetrators very severely.

Here's Speedy Relief From Bunion Pains and Soft Corns

Emerald Oil Must Give Complete Satisfaction or Money Cheerfully Refunded.

Get a two-ounce bottle of Moone's Emerald Oil (full strength) today. Every well stocked drug store has this, with the distinct understanding that your money will be cheerfully returned if it does not reduce the inflammation, soreness, and pain much quicker than any remedy you ever used.

Two or three applications of Moone's Emerald Oil and in fifteen minutes the pain and soreness disappears. A few more applications at regular intervals and the inflammation is gone.

And as for Soft Corns a few applications each night at bed time and they just seem to shrivel right up and scale off.

No matter how discouraged you have been with pads, shields, or other applications, if you have not tried Emerald Oil then you have something to learn.

It's a wonderful formula—this combination of essential oils with camphor and other antiseptics so marvelous that thousands of bottles are sold annually for reducing varicose or swollen veins.

McKee's Kut Rate, Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., New Castle Drug Co., McKinley & Frantz and every good druggist guarantees the first bottle of Moone's Emerald Oil to end your foot troubles or money back.

Community Chest Workers Showing Great Enthusiasm

"Prospects for a successful Community Chest drive are so rosy that I do not see how they can be over estimated. In all my dealings with social work and community activities, I never saw such a whole hearted and smiling enthusiasm as is being shown by the members of this organization," said W .F. Moody, president of the board of directors of the Community Chest campaign.

"The personnel is purely representative of New Castle's finest type of thinking, working citizens. Men and women of standing and responsibility in the community are represented among the workers; men and women with the interests of the community first in their hearts. This fine spirit of co-operation, together with the enthusiasm which is being displayed is really an inspiration for all of the workers. It fairly pushes one on to do his level best. All in all we have an organization this year that cannot be licked. We are bound to succeed."

J. Lee McFate, past president of the board of directors says: "Never have I seen or been a part of an organization so finely organized and with such unity of purpose. Every man and woman connected with the drive in any way is just so full of determination that one cannot attend the meeting without sensing success.

"There is no doubt in my mind that this year will break down all precedent and the drive will go over the top and then some. The various agencies are working with a singleness of purpose that never before was shown. Every agency is on its toes to do its share and a little more if possible."

The following representative citizens, men and women enjoying the confidence of the community are responsible for the co-operative spirit that is being manifested in the preliminary work of the Community Chest:

Mrs. J. L. Stratton, Roy W. Hazen, Mrs. H. L. Gordon, M. L. Marvin, J. R. Mead, F. A. Hover, Miss Anna Gilliland, Thos. Gilkey, John Nothdurft, Wm. J. Moffatt, Mrs. C. J. Half Minute Interviews

Some Local Comment Ideas and Suggestions As Given To News Man

By ALFRED SWIFT

GEORGE KULHA,
South Side Merchant.

To me, it seems that the series will go the full seven games, with New York and Pittsburgh splitting the first six. On the outcome of the seventh game the series depends. The team that wins the seventh game, I am confident will win the series.

BUB JONES,
Hanna Street.

In the world's series between Pittsburgh and New York I was looking for Pittsburgh to win the first game with a low score. Then I believe the Yanks will win the second, third and fourth games. Pittsburgh will take the fifth game and the series will end in the sixth when the New York aggregation will win.

MICKEY CLAYTON,
Long Avenue.

Although the first three games have been nothing but conditioners for the New Castle High school squad, when they run up against Donora, they will meet some real opposition. Yet I am confident that the local boys will come through as they have done in the past and will do in the future.

In fact, at the end of the first half I look for a nothing to nothing score but when the final whistle blows I am sure New Castle will have the bacon in their hands by at least two touchdowns.

No, I would not say that they will make the points after the touchdowns. It seems to me that they are a trifle weak in that department. But they can roll up the six pointers and games are won on those.

F. M. PHILLIPS,
Fifth Ward Fireman.

New York, I believe, should win the series in four straight games Pittsburgh team seems wanting when compared to the Yanks. Then New York seems to have a better line up of hitters than does Pittsburgh. While the Pittsburgh boys can hit, yet I believe that they are no match for their opponents.

Y Boys To Take Outing Friday

Again the boys of the Y. M. C. A. will hold an outing, this time to take the form of a corn roast, to be held at Crystal Springs Friday evening.

According to Physical Director Walter Kirker, the boys will leave the Y. M. C. A. at 4:30 Friday evening and hike to Crystal Springs, where they will have roasted corn, weiners and buns.

It is important that all boys get in touch with Boys' Secretary John Leonard at once, so that the men in charge of the hike will know how many are going and can make the necessary arrangements.

Old Main Memorial Rising Rapidly

Second Story Of New Westminster Building Is Now Going Up

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Oct. 6.—Workmen on Old Main Memorial started yesterday to place steel girders into place in preparation for stone work on the second and third stories of the building.

Stone work is about complete for the chapel wing first floor and the main wing first story, and the Gothic arches on the loggia entrance facing Market street will be completed within a day or two.

Steel girders for the floor of the chapel were placed into position last week. The chapel floor, due to the slope of the ground, will be on a level with the second floor of the main part of the structure.

The main ditch which will contain sewer pipes and pipes containing telephone and electric light wires now reaches from the Old Main Memorial building to the Gymnasium with a connection for Robert Audley Browne hall. This will eliminate digging when the campus is developed and will also do away with electric wires overhead.

Perry Sewall, superintendent of buildings and grounds, has a group of masons constructing a stone arched bridge over the Little Neshannock creek near the gymnasium. This will add materially to the view from the athletic field.

One of the most remarkable business women in England is Mrs. L. A. Willson, who, beginning her career as a mill hand, is now a builder of houses on the principal of mass production.

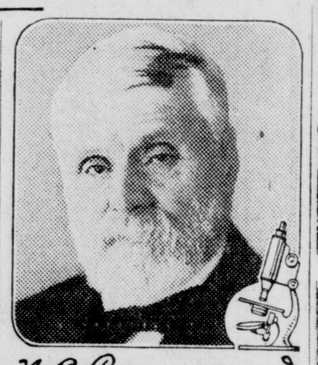
Millions of Families Depend on Dr. Caldwell's Prescription

When Dr. Caldwell started to practice medicine, back in 1875, the needs for a laxative were not as great as they are today. People lived normal, quiet lives, ate plain, wholesome food, and got plenty of fresh air and sunshine. But even that early there were drastic physics and purges for the relief of constipation which Dr. Caldwell did not believe were good for human beings to put into their system. So he wrote a prescription for a laxative to be used by his patients.

The prescription for constipation that he used early in his practice, and which he put in drug stores in 1892 under the name of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, is a liquid vegetable remedy, intended for women, children and elderly people, and they need just such a mild, safe, gentle bowel stimulant as Syrup Pepsin.

Under successful management this prescription has proven its worth and is now the largest selling liquid laxative in the world. The fact that millions of bottles are used a year proves that it has won the confidence of people who needed it to get relief from headaches, biliousness, flatulence, indigestion, loss of appetite and sleep, bad breath, dyspepsia, colds and fevers.

Millions of families are now never without Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and if you will once start using it you will also always have a bottle handy for emergencies.



W. B. Caldwell M.D.
AT AGE 83

It is particularly pleasing to know that the most of it is bought by mothers for themselves and the children, though Syrup Pepsin is just as valuable for elderly people. All drug stores have the generous bottles.

We would be glad to have you prove at our expense how much Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin can mean to you and yours. Just write "Syrup Pepsin," Monticello, Illinois, and we will send you prepaid a FREE SAMPLE BOTTLE.

Warm And Cloudy Weather Outlook For Game Today

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Oct. 6.—Moderately warm and cloudy weather prevailed early today in Pittsburgh, scene of the second world series game this afternoon.

The officials forecast for today, however, was "showers and cooler."

In the event of rain, this afternoon's game would be put over until tomorrow.

Old Confederate Uniform Is Called Asset By Bankrupt

WACO, Tex., Oct. 6.—"One old Confederate uniform." This phrase is listed in one of the most unusual bankruptcy petitions ever filed in the federal courts here clerks said.

The petition is that of Colonel Felix Robertson of Waco the highest ranking officer of the Confederate army living today.

The colonel listed the uniform as follows:

"One old Confederate uniform a symbol of 'the storm-tossed nation that fell.' I wore it with fidelity and honor long ago in the brave days of my youth and now in the evening of life, let me say that I fought for the cause I believed right accepted the arbitrament of the sword in good faith and for 60 years my flag has been Old Glory. Long will she wave over the land of the free and the home of the brave because the sons of Lee and the sons of Grant stand for one country, one flag and one cause—value $25.'

Gypsy Girl Makes Four Attempts To Die, Fined $10

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—A gypsy girl, picturesquely dressed, made four attempts at suicide by throwing herself in front of passing automobiles on Fifth avenue yesterday, and each attempt cost her $2.50.

Motorists swerved their machines as she threw herself in their path, until a policeman took her in charge.

In magistrate's court she gave her name as Pearl Ryan, 23. She was fined $10 for disorderly conduct.

Asked why she wanted to end her life, she replied:

"Because of love. I want to commit suicide because of love."

"Well, you can't do it here," the magistrate replied. "This is a civilized country."

The Daybook OF A New Yorker

BY BURTON RASCOE

Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News.

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—There is a new five and ten-cent store in West Forty-second street. It runs through the whole block to Forty-third, and is an airy emporium with a cafeteria on its mezzanine floor and all sorts of gadgets to attract new customers. It is much more dazzling and better ventilated than most of its sister stores. Yesterday afternoon it was jammed to the doors with well-dressed people buying such things as brooches, chocolate mints, bibs, garters, peanut butter and jam. Yes, the 5 and 10 list now includes delicatessen dainties. You can buy there pretty nearly everything, from a bottle of olives to a plate on which to serve them, for your tea party. A young woman I know, who was recently married and was busily furnishing rather a smart little apartment in the East Fifties, used to spend whole afternoons shopping busily at the five-and-dime, and then find that she needed a taxi to transport her and her packages home. The taxi fare, of course, rubbed the bloom off the economy idea, because she could have bought the same kitchen gadgets at one of the cheaper department stores, and could have had them sent home. It probably would not have afforded her as much amusement.

Panorama of New York: A greasy, lecherous-looking middle aged man slipping a roll of bills into the purse of his companion, a fresh, full-blown, opulent girl of about 20, as the two consume chocolate nut sundaes at a drug store counter. . . . He is counseling her to get another tam-o'-shanter hat just like the one she is wearing, and in which she looks pretty terrible. . . . A fat little woman and a little girl scrambling precariously along the step of a Sixth avenue car until they find a seat that suits them. . . . I have cold chills until they are all set, so dizzy has their progress been. . . . A man driving along Fifth avenue in the thick of theatre time traffic, in a flivver, with two police dogs in the back seat, braying and yelping at bus passengers and all pedestrians. The din is terrific. . . . Women pawing at each other to get at the "three-color kitchens" advertised by a department store . . . exclaiming over pots and pans in lettuce green and canary yellow . . . even the fly swatter on a nail has a lettuce green handle. . . . Supercilious counter boys at Huyler's, the Mirror and Happiness shops, all high-hatting anyone who wants service. . . . More supercilious counter boys at the checkroom at Grand Central station, pretending to be deaf, dumb and blind when I want to check my brief case. . . . Fat women eating special ice cream cake at Schraff's at 50 cents a throw, and talking about going on a diet.

We set in some English violet plants in the garden last May. They have only just begun to bloom. The experience seems as exciting to us as having roses pop out in January. Anyhow, the whole countryside just around New York looks pretty springlike. The trees are amazingly green. There is scarcely a sign of fall except in the red of the sumach, in the woods. When I lived in the middle west, the middle of September always meant that autumn flags were set flying in the woods, but down here you can't be sure about the seasons. And when I lived on Manhattan island itself, I scarcely knew what the month was, unless I looked closely at the shop windows for changing styles. Your average New Yorker hardly ever gets a good look at a lawn or a tree, unless he happens to live in the vicinity of Central park.

Much of the intensively dark sunburn worn by the girls this season, I'm told, has been induced by a certain high-priced oil rubbed on before swimming, or before any undue exposure to the sun. The shops price small bottles of this lotion at $10, so only the ladies who can afford to indulge all their small tastes can wear this sunburn de luxe.

Enroll 522 Students For First Semester

All Records For Students Fall At Westminster This Year

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Oct. 6.—According to a bulletin issued today from the Westminster College offices concerning this year's registration figures, the United Presbyterian institution has a total enrollment for the first semester of 522 students, an increase of 12 over the net total for the entire school year last season which was 510 students.

The new freshman class comes first in the list of the class enrollments with a total of 175. The sophomore class at the Blue and White college has 144 students on its roll. The juniors enrolled this semester total 116, while the senior class has 67 members. There are also 20 specially enrolled students at college this term.

According to these figures on registration, James A. Swindler, college registrar, states that the net total for the coming school year will greatly exceed last year's sum net total as many new students register the second semester.

Girl Bosses Ranch On Which She Has 440 Cows And Calves

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 6.—Choosing a position as foreman of the Carpenter ranch is the unusual distinction of Thebe Hanson, who came to Lyman County, South Dakota, twenty years ago, and as a little girl at home early learned to herd cattle on her father's homestead. She likes caring for cattle so well that she has held the position of foreman now for three years. She has each cow and calf named, and spends all her time riding over the big pasture, seeing that each of her 440 charges is doing well.

She has a few cattle of her own and has them branded. Asked what the ranch brand is, she draws the outline of a chunky fish. Besides the cattle, Miss Hanson watches over fifty three head of horses in the herd.

Quiet and modest of manner, it is hard to picture her battling with a bucking horse, as she does sometimes, and again roping a cow mired in the mud and pulling it to safety. Dressed in cowboy hat and boots, she fares forth in all kinds of weather to see that her herd to the last calf has a chance to be at its best.

Men on the ranch care for the 1,500 acres of cultivated land and provide winter feed for the herds.

Judge STUDEBAKER'S ERSKINE SIX

① By what it does

② By what owners say

All around the great world, the unequalled performance of Studebaker's Erskine Six is winning new records — and thousands of happy new owners.

APRIL 16. London to Land's End Relicbility Run—Erskine Six sedan won highest gold medal award in 317.5 mile competition under supervision of Royal Automobile Club.

JUNE 4. London-Edinburgh Reliability Run—Erskine Six sedan won highest gold medal award in 415.75 mile competition supervised by the Royal Automobile Club.

JUNE 14. Spanish Performance Test — Three Erskine Six tourers each won gold medals in the maximum classifications of a competition held in Barcelona under supervision of Royal Automobile Club of Cataluna. Distance covered was 437 miles.

JUNE 22. Buenos Aires—Erskine Six sedan captured the Argentine endurance run after running continuously for 5 days, 5 nights and three hours. 1548 miles were covered. Supervised by Santa Fe Automobile Club.

JULY 20. Santa Fe to Buenos Aires—Erskine Six sedan set new speed record for 347.5 mile distance between Santa Fe and Buenos Aires—under supervision of Santa Fe Automobile Club.

JULY 24. Hamburg Driving Tournament—Erskine Six tourer only car to successfully complete all 12 trials to determine speed and flexibility of cars participating. Won first place from field of 23 competitors. Tournament supervised by Allgemeine Deutsche Automobil-Club and Automobile-Club von Deutschland.

AUGUST 14. Sierra Mountain Run — Erskine Six sedan completed gruelling run of 401 miles over five highest Sierra mountain summits in elapsed time of 17 hours, 39 minutes. Every conceivable type of road was encountered in this rigorous test of power and stamina. W. J. Silva, Modesto, Calif., drove and was accompanied by four observers.

Ask the owner of any Erskine Six what he thinks of it. His reply will do more to convince you of the unusual value built into every Erskine Six by Studebaker than any amount of sales talk. Here are the comments of a few Erskine owners:

Outstanding Car of the Year

"It is the best light six on the market. I have driven my Erskine better than 1600 miles and get from 22 to 25 miles per gallon. It holds the road so well and is so easy to ride in at high speeds that I consider it the new outstanding car of the year."

E. V., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Unsurpassed

"We are delighted with our Erskine in both performance and looks. It is unsurpassed in the light car field and much handsomer in every way than we expected." C. H. A., Milford, Delaware

Ideal Automobile

"I have been driving automobiles since 1905 and I want to say that my new Erskine more nearly approaches the ideal automobile than anything I have ever driven." H. V. P., Galveston, Texas

Performs Wonderfully

"I have just completed a 3500-mile trip and my Erskine performed wonderfully."

F. J. F., Ensley, Ala.

No Repair Expense

"I have driven my Erskine about 4300 miles to date. I have had no repair expense whatever and have continually averaged 28 miles to the gallon of gasoline."

W. H. B., Sharon, Pa.

Quick Pickup

"It is 'the car you love to drive'. I have owned several cars and I just told my wife the other day that this is the only satisfactory car I have ever owned. It will go where I want to go and is always quick on the pickup."

E. F. P., Dallas, Texas

Graselli Heir Weds Soon After Divorce

CLEVELAND, Oct. 6.—Edward Grasselli, heir of the Grasselli chemical fortune, who was divorced by Mrs. Helen Long Grasselli September 18, announced today that he married Miss Juel A. Dowling of Washington September 26 in Forestville, Md.

Mrs. Helen Long Grasselli secured a divorce after a long series of notary hearings in which their married lives were bared. Grasselli admitted that he had "spent considerable time in company with another woman and had given her expensive gifts". The "other woman's" name was not revealed in testimony.

"Crude Rubber Unchanged." Yeah, you can watch 'em every day at Lexington and Liberty and see 'em doing the same old thing.—The Baltimore Evening Sun.

Dull, listless, out of sorts, feeling half-sick

IS it a cold coming on? Is it over-eating or what can it be? Probably it is Nature warning that your system is not functioning properly.

When you feel this way you should follow the treatment that has helped many, many other people. Even two weeks of it will make a difference in the way you feel.

A prominent New York physician says, "When my patients have that dull half-sick feeling I always prescribe Nujol and recommend at least two weeks' continued usage. Why? Because Nujol absorbs and clears away the toxic intestinal poisons that in most cases are the cause of the trouble. Further, Nujol is absolutely harmless and can be taken by young babies or old people."

Not like medicine

Nujol contains no drugs or medicine. It's a natural substance unlike anything else. Can't hurt you. Others have benefited from taking it, why not you?

This remarkable product is sold all over the world. Go to any druggist, get a bottle of Nujol and see for yourself what it will do. Only—don't delay. Do it now. Insist on the real Nujol. Perfected by the famous Chemical Products Division of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey. Look for the Nujol bottle with the label on the back that you can read right through the bottle.

Over Thousand Seek Prizes For Cure Of Cancer

Thousand Cures Revealed But All Prove Valueless Is Report

(International News Service)

DETROIT, Oct. 6.—Despite the efforts of medical science to discover the prevention and cure of cancer, more than 1500 ways to eradicate the dread disease have been proposed during the past six months by contestants for the two prizes of $50,000 offered for the prevention and cure of that disease by William Lawrence Saunders, of New York, according to a report presented to the American College of Surgeons today by George A. Soper, managing director of the American Society for the control of cancer.

For the most part, the suggestions were valueless, Dr. Soper said, many based upon the writers' desire to separate Saunders from his money, and were almost exclusively from laymen.

The applications for prizes included Indian remedies, secret preparations passed down from one generation to another, treasured recipes resurrected from old cook books, cures revealed in dreams, and mystic rites which called for the favorable conjunction of the moon and stars.

Legion Commanders Arrive In London

Six-Day Ceremonial Visit Planned For Legionnaires By British

Will Visit Buckingham Palace And Be Greeted By King George

By CHARLES A. SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Oct. 6.—Two hundred and eighty state commanders of the American Legion, headed by former National Commander Howard P. Savage, arrived here today for a six-day ceremonial visit, and the whole British nation from King George down has united to give them a pleasant time.

The big functions arranged in honor of the former doughboys include a visit to Buckingham palace, where they will be received by King George; a dinner at the house of lords at which Premier Stanley Baldwin will preside, and a luncheon at the Mansion House where the lord mayor will extend the hospitality of the city.

The Prince of Wales and possibly other members of the royal family will attend the house of lords dinner.

The legionnaires, who are making a "good will pilgrimage" through Europe, arrived at Harwich from Antwerp shortly after 6 o'clock this morning. They were met by a delegation of British officials and escorted to reserved compartments on the London "boat train".

London Fog Prevails.

Officials of the government hospitality commission, flanked by civic and British legion officials, met the Americans in London.

The visitors arrived in a typical London fog, but despite the gloom of the weather there was plenty of enthusiasm at the Liverpool station. The train was nearly an hour late.

About 1,000 British legionnaires, under command of Gen. Sir Edward Bethune, a guard of honor from the London post of the American Legion, many American residents of London, and a number of "unofficial" legionnaires visiting in London were among the crowd at the railway station.

The British war office was represented by Major General Charles, Gen. Townsend and others. The foreign office also was represented.

After leaving the train the legionnaires formed on the platform with unfurled flags. British dignitaries inspected them, speaking with those that wore medals. Then the visitors hastened to their hotels.

Rev. D. C. Schnebly Preaches Friday

Moderator Of Shenango Presbytery At Central Church Service

Rev. Daniel C. Schnebly pastor of the Mahoningtown Presbyterian church will preach the preparatory sermon in the Central Presbyterian church Friday evening at 7:45 o'clock. He is the new moderator of the Shenango Presbytery and no doubt will be heard by a large congregation. He was formerly moderator of the Central church and has many close friends in the congregation.

At the close of the preparatory service the session will meet to receive new members. The October communion will be held next Sabbath morning.

Better Garages Now Being Built

Better garages are being erected in the city, according to estimates of cost contained in statistics on file at the office of the building bureau, engineering department, City building.

During the past few days the cost has gone as high as $1,000. During the past few months very few garages cost over $220. However, this price is gradually being increased in some districts.

Today records showed permits had been granted to:

Mike Fazzone, 302-304 East Reynolds street; garage, $1,000.

Samuel Ginsberg, 328 East Moody avenue; garage, $600.

Rosena McGurk, 427 Winter avenue; garage, $350.

Mrs. C. L. Hoover, 432 Neshannock avenue; garage, $225.

Residential building during the past week has slowed up, no doubt being caused by the uncertainty of weather conditions.

NATURAL RESOURCES IN COUNTY ARE ABUNDANT

Sand, limestone, gravel, fire clay and shale number among the natural resources of New Castle and Lawrence county, along with important deposits of coal, which have not been developed because of the nearness of commercial deposits of exceptionally fine coal, according to the industrial survey which has recently been completed by the Hockenbury System of Harrisburg for the Chamber of Commerce.

One million tons of sand and gravel are developed in this district annually. Nearly one-half of the gravel used in the Pittsburgh district comes from New Castle and Lawrence county.

Aside from this, the state geological survey estimates that there are approximately 1,500,000,000 tons of limestone recoverable in Lawrence county. The present annual tonnage of this district is 4,510,000.

Almost unlimited are the Lawrenc county deposits of fire clay and shale. Bricks manufactured in this district are shipped all over the eastern part of the United States, New England and the upper lake region.

The largest paving brick kiln in the world, containing 206 chambers and 3,380 feet of kilns, is in the county. The company which operates this kiln alone produces 90,000,000 bricks a year.

In addition to the raw materials which are to be found in the county, materials for the New Castle industries are imported from all parts of the United States, as well as Asia, Africa, Canada, England, China, Japan and Sweden.

Markets for the local manufactured goods are Canada, Australia, South America, Japan and France.

MONKEYS DREAD CO-OLD WINTER

Three Cedar Point Fugitives Craving Warmth Will Be Recaptured

SANDUSKY, O., Oct. 6.—Monkeys which fled the Cedar Point monkey-house one day last summer when a joker opened the door are beginning to look for warm quarters.

Three of the nine that got away are still at large.

"The other morning while I was doing some work in my office," said Charles D. Mittenbuhler, manager of Hotel Breakers, today, "I heard chattering outside the door and, looking out, beheld three of the most forlorn looking monkeys you ever laid your eyes on.

"They were shivering from cold. I spoke softly and finally one came up so close to me that I was able to catch it.

"He didn't make much fuss, but seemed willing to take most any kind of a chance to get warm.

"The other two monkeys, however, were rather shy. I couldn't get near them.

"I placed a chain about the neck of the monkey I had caught, intending to take him up to the monkey-house when I got a little time.

"All of a sudden I happened to look up. The monkey had removed the chain from his neck and was examining it.

"As I drew near he dropped the chain, took a couple of long jumps and took to the balcony above the main lobby of the hotel, where he defied every effort to recapture him."

Those who know monkeys say that unless the fugitives are captured soon and put in a warm place, they will die of pneumonia.

Regional Conference At Teachers College Slippery Rock, Pa.

Third Annual Regional Conference for teachers, principals and superintendents of Allegheny, Beaver, Butler and Lawrence counties will be held at the State Teachers College at Slippery Rock, Pa., on October 14 and 15.

A special feature of the conference will be the round table discussions in the subjects of arithmetic, reading, social science, English and visual education. All are cordially invited to enter into the discussions.

Among the speakers and leaders at the conference will be J. Elwood Wherry, superintendent of Allegheny County, Dr. J. J. Savitz, principal of Glassboro State Normal School; Dr. C. F. Hoban, director visual education, Harrisburg, and John C. Syling, superintendent of Lawrence county schools.

Meals and lodging may be obtained at reasonable rates. Reservations may be obtained by writing David C. Porter, State Teachers College, Slippery Rock, Pa. The school will be hosts to the members of the conference at the Saturday noon luncheon.

Members of the conference committee are David C. Porter, John T. Connell, C. C. Green, S. W. Lyons, J. Edward Wherry.

Captain O'Timmons Is Killed In Dive

First Drowning In Years Occurs At Oakland Beach, Conneaut Lake

Captin Smiles O'Timmons, one armed high diver who was defeated in a race across Conneaut Lake this summer by Jack Herbert was killed at Pittstown recently while giving an exhibition in high diving, according to word received here today from Conneaut Lake. Many local people saw O'Timmons dive at Conneaut and also swim against Herbert. According to the information O'Timmons missed the tank completely.

The captain lost his arm in a former high diving stunt. His body struck the tank and he was injured so badly that amputation was necessary.

The first drowning in several years at Conneaut Lake occurred Sunday when a young man from Youngstown lost his life at Oakland Beach.

NILES MURDERER GETS LIFE TERM

WARREN, O., Oct. 6.—Philip Bianco, 52, will start a life sentence in the Ohio penitentiary probably late this week.

He pleaded guilty Wednesday before Common Pleas Judge William M. Carter here to second degree murder in the fatal shooting of his daughter, Mrs. Laura Mangino, Niles.

Bianco was indicted last month on charges of first degree murder, and shooting to kill his divorced wife.

Police said Bianco shot Mrs. Mangino and Mrs. Bianco here Aug. 1, when he became enraged at having to pay alimony.

Gym Classes Are Filling Up At Y

Despite the warm weather, gym classes are filling up beyond expectations at the Y. M. C. A., was the report made today by Physical Director Walter Kirker. It is to be expected that in the next few days the classes will have reached their capacities.

In the 1,700-mile marathon swim, which is being held in the Y. M. C. A. pool, it is reported that Montanari still is leading all competitors, with Glass running him a close second.

Junkers Plane Forced To Land; Crew Is Unhurt

German Plane Not Damaged By Forced Landing At Santa Cruz Beach Near Lisbon

(International News Service)

LISBON Oct. 6.—The German Junkers Trans-Atlantic plane D.-1230 which was forced down yesterday at Santa Cruz Beach, 40 miles northwest of Lisbon, was not damaged and the occupants were not injured, according to information received here this afternoon.

The plane was compelled to land by fog which made navigation difficult. One of the passengers is a woman—Lilly Dillenz—an Austrian actress.

The Portuguese Destroyer Guadana was ordered to Santa Cruz Beach to aid the plane.

A report had been received earlier in the day that the plane was missing somewhere off Cape Roca and that three Portuguese warships were searching for it.

Plan For Feeding Of Game In State

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Oct. 6.—Scarcity of natural food for game has resulted in more damage claims during the present fall than in any year in the past according to John B. Truman, secretary of the state game commission.

The unusual situation will be considered at the meeting of the game commission here next week. At that time Truman will present the commission with plans for feeding the game which it is believed will cut down the damage claims.

Claims for damage because of bear and squirrel have been especially frequent. In Sullivan, Columbia and Lycoming counties bear have attacked and carried off sheep and destroyed a number of bee hives.

Scarcity of nuts also has driven squirrels to corn fields and damage has been reported from the majority of counties.

Reports of damage by deer, always plentiful, recently have become more so. The large number of does, Truman said, in some sections has resulted in a scarcity of natural feed and the animals already are attacking the crops.

McCandless Unable To Fill His Office

BUTLER, Pa., Oct. 6.—Sheriff S. M. Leslie has been appointed temporary chairman of the Republican county committee and will serve during the disability of Chairman Elgie McCandless who is suffering from acute illness of a nervous nature. McCandless is awaiting trial in the Lawrence county court on charges of manslaughter in connection with the death of a Cleveland man when he was hit by an automobile driven by McCandless.

Insanity isn't increasing. It just seems that way because we have found new uses for it.

Clever Stunt In Junior High Put On Yesterday

This Morning The High School Orchestra Makes Its First Appearance In Chapel

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 6.—In order to keep up with the extreme interest being shown by old and young in the outcome of the world series games the authorities in the Junior high school placed the returns of the game inning by inning yesterday, in the halls so that the students would not feel that they just had to "play hookey" to hear the returns. Principal Conner announced that the attendance in the afternoon was the same as the morning, so the innovation was successful.

At assembly this morning in the Junior high school, the orchestra made its initial appearance this year, and gave several selections.

The balance of the program consisted of well known pictures, the history of which was given, and then posed in costume by the students. Two of the pictures were "The Age of Innocence" and "The Angelus."

Tomorrow has been set aside for the organization of school clubs.

Scout Leaders To Give Honor Scouts Two Weeks Camp

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 6.—Eight members of the Girl Scout Executive Board met last evening at the home of Misses Rhodes and Bennet on Spring avenue, for their regular monthly meeting.

The members decided that the sponsor of each troop will finance the honor scout in her troop with a two weeks visit at a scout camp next summer. Various programs were outlined for this month's meetings, and the meeting dates changed from Tuesday to Monday in the Hartman school building.

POLICE NOTES

Run-a-way Horse Observes Signals Of Traffic Light

(International News Service)

YORK, Pa., Oct. 6.—Colonel, the horse which draws a delivery wagon for a baking company at Red Lion, near here, may be a bit skittish, but he's a law abiding animal.

Frightened by a newspaper which blew across his path he took a driverless wagon down West Broadway at breakneck speed, scattering hundreds of loaves of bread about the hightway. A red traffic light at an intersection brought him to a dead stop. Just as his master overtook him, and was about to grasp his bridle, the traffic light changed to green and Colonel was on his way, leaving behind him another trail of bread and splintered bits of wagon.

ALTOONA, Pa., Oct. 6.—Three road supervisors in Blair county must either make immediate repairs on their township roads or pay a fine of $50, according to a court ruling handed down here.

Pennsylvania Dutch Dialect Is Passing

By HENRY DANNER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

YORK, Pa., Oct. 6.—The daily newspaper, the radio and laws enforcing school attendance are conspiring to break the hold of the "Pennsylvania Dutch" dialect on the rural tongue in this vicinity.

The waning popularity of the hybrid language of southeastern Pennsylvania is evidenced in many ways. Candidates for county offices made campaign material of the fact that they could speak both Pennsylvania Dutch and English now show no inclination to advertise that fact. Local printing offices have discarded characteristic type in the printing of sale bills in Pennsylvania Dutch and Pennsylvanians who knew their "kartoffels" by no other name than "grumberra" are now calling a potato by its English name. (Kartoffel is German for potato and grumberra is Pennsylvania Dutch for the same vegetable.)

Although teachers in rural public schools now seldom find a child who cannot speak English, they have a constant battle with colloquialisms resulting from too literal translations from Pennsylvania Dutch to English.

"It looks like it's gonna make down."

"Yes, pop said for to bring an umbrella with."

So might run a conversation between two youngsters concerning the weather. In York county many rural persons perform verbal antics in the midst of a lingual transition. Instead fo approaching they "come the road up." They often "make the door shut" instead of closing it, and instead of saying someone is seriously ill, that person is spoken of as being "wonderful bad".

The word "wonder" and its various forms fill what, did it not exist, would have been an aching void in the transitory dialect the neighbor who led a "wonderful good life" is "wonderful sick" with a "wonderful bad" case of inflammatory rheumatism and "it wonders the neighbors how she can stand such "wonderful" pain.

It is not so much the Pennsylvania Dutch dialect as freak English it has bred in the younger generation that educators have to combat.

High School Pupils At Monaca Out On Strike

MONACA, Pa., Oct. 6—Pupils of the high school here are on a "color" strike. Fifteen members of the senior class were suspended for two days, and 69 members of the junior and sophomore classes face suspension when they return to school.

The seniors absented themselves from classes because of some alleged afront to class colors and are said to have played hookey at a Rochester movie. Fifteen leaders came under the ban.

Yesterday the junior and sophomore classes staged a "color protest" parade to Rochester and Beaver. At Beaver they attempted to visit the Beaver High school but were turned back by Chief of Police Harry Anderson, Principal E. U. Groleau of the Monaca High school said today pupils has been inspired by stories of school strikes in the newspapers. He said that when the absent students return they will be punished.

Plaingrove Farmer Has Giant Corn Stalk

T. E. Locke of near Plaingrove has a stalk of corn on display on his farm that measures 15 feet and 6 inches long.

It is doubtful whether any one in the county can beat the record of this Plaingrove farmer. If so, tell The News about it. Perhaps we can find one that would vie with Jack's Beanstalk.

Eleven Alleged Members Of Beer Ring Face Trial

Ten Men And One Woman, Members Of So-called Beer Ring Go On Trial

(International News Service)

SCRANTON, Pa., Oct. 6.—Ten men and one woman from northeastern Pennsylvania, charged with being members of the so-called Ohio-Pennsylvania beer ring which operated a gigantic business running into millions of dollars, faced Federal Judge Albert W. Johnson here today when the matter of federal jurisdiction in the case was argued.

Ten members of the defense counsel maintained that the Ohio federal court has no jurisdiction over Pennsylvania defendants and cannot remove them to Cleveland for trial.

United States Attorney A. E. Bernsteen and his assistant, Miles E. Eans, both of Cleveland, represent the government in the arguments, which may continue until Friday.

The defendants are William V. Loughran, alleged ringleader; his sister, Mrs. Mary Anderson; George I. Purcell, James J. Dooley, Jacob Mayer, William Quinn, Lester Lord, Jr., all of Scranton; James Jordan, head of the Castania Beverage company, Lock Haven; W. F. McHugh, Karl Bossert and Patrick McGowan of Luzerne county.

Superior Court Reserves Judgement In Eviction Cases

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 6.—The superior court here today reserved judgment after hearing argument on the appeals of discharged employes of the Pittsburgh Terminal Coal corporation, opposing the firm's action in dispossessing them of their homes in company owned houses in Castle Shannon borough, Allegheny county. The ejectment proceedings followed a strike at the company's mine No. 2.

Special Grand Jury Will Probe Murder Mystery

First Legal Move In Lilliendahl Murder Mystery Expected Today

WILLIE BEACH TO ATTEND HEARING

(International News Service)

MAYS LANDING N. J., Oct. 6.—The first definite legal move on the part of the State of New Jersey in the mystery of the murder of Dr. William Lilliendahl is expected today when the case is presented to a special grand jury here.

According to Prosecutor S. Cameron Hinkle, the two indictments for murder will be returned. One of the indictments he said would be against Willie Beach, neighbor of the Lilliendahls with whom Dr. Lilliendahl was said to have quarreled and ordered from his home because of his friendship for his wife. Hinkle would not say against whom the other indictment would be directed.

Beach himself will be at the hearing today according to his attorney, Edison Hodges. Beach disappeared shortly after his name became involved in the investigation. His counsel refused to divulge his whereabouts but promised to deliver him whenever Beach could aid the court in any way.

Chrysler Standardized Quality Revises Values Upwards

Chrysler Standardized Quality, by pioneering and developing scores of improvements and making them available to all Chryslers—"52," "62," "72" and Imperial "80"—has set new higher standards of value in the whole automobile industry.

Because of these extra measures of value, Chrysler cars can fairly be compared only with others of much higher price. Universally Chrysler cars represent far more than anything else the same money will buy elsewhere today.

Chrysler Standardized Quality has thus very evidently established new conceptions of motor car worth and has revised values upward in every one of the four great markets.

PIRATES NOT DISCOURAGED BY DEFEAT

Errors Help Yanks In Series Opener

Three Pirate Miscues Cost Kremer Victory In Opening Battle Of Series

Miljus And Moore Look Good In Relief Roles; Ruth-Waner Brothers Star

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Oct. 6.—One down to the New York Yankees in the world series but not at all discouraged, the Pittsburgh Pirates today were grimly determined to square accounts with the Yanks at Forbes Field this afternoon. With that objective in view Manager Donie Bush indicated he would send the veteran Vic Aldridge in to pitch against Babe Ruth and the other New York sluggers. John Gooch probably will catch Aldridge.

George Pipgras and Pat Collins will undoubtedly be the battery for the Yankees, Manager Miller Huggins announced.

Neither Manager Bush or the Pirates were discouraged by the 5-to-4 defeat of the Pirates in the opening game before 41,467 fans. "I think it will be one victory apiece by nightfall," Bush declared this morning. "I think our pitchers can stop the Yanks."

The strategy of the Pittsburgh pitchers now seems to be to "curve ball" the Yankee sluggers. Almost two out of three balls so far thrown to the Yanks have been curves and while Pittsburgh came out on the wrong end of the score yesterday the Yankees were able to make only six hits, three of them by Ruth, all singles. The Pirates got nine hits. The Pittsburgh club is now convinced that the Yanks do not like curves.

But the Yanks think otherwise. "It won't be long now," said Ruth this morning. "I feel 'hot.' I've got to hit some longer ones but I'm not kicking on those singles I made. I like Kremer's pitching. My first two hits clicked just right and I would have got another off Kremer the third time up, I think, if I hadn't slipped as I was swinging."

Ruth Praises Waners.

Ruth praised the Waner brothers, Lloyd and Paul, as "a couple of good ball players," adding: "they sure popped a few out my way."

Joe Harris, Pirate's first baseman, expressed the general sentiment of the Pittsburgh team when he said: "Any, team that gets five runs on six hits is mighty lucky. Aside from Ruth, we had those heavy hitters stopped in their tracks. Kremer will get better support next time and he'll know better how to pitch to Ruth."

Ray Kremer, the Pirates pitching ace, was greatly disappointed at his showing but said he expected to do better the next time he starts. Waite Hoyt, the Yanks' starting pitcher in the series, said he "didn't mind" being knocked out of the box because it was "all in the game" and, besides, he realizes he wasn't "right."

High praise was given by the ball players to both relief pitchers in the opening game, Wilcy Moore for the Yanks, and John Miljus, the big Pittsburgh right-hander. It was freely predicted that both of them will be given an opportunity soon to start a game. Moore stopped the Pirates dead when they became threatening in the eighth and turned them back in one, two, three order in the ninth, while Miljus held the Yanks to one hit in the four innings he was on the mound.

Another capacity crowd was expected to turn out this afternoon to see the Pirates battle to turn the tide. The great crowd that packed every inch of space inside Forbes Field at the opening game was disappointed at the collapse of the highly-touted Kremer and the bungles of Grantham and Smith. Catcher Smith's failure to get Gehrig when he had him trapped between third and home will probably keep him on the bench today and maybe for the series.

Why Not Cuyler?

The Pittsburgh fans seemed to resent the work of Ruth in hitting mere singles. They don't want him to hit at all but they think they are cheated when he doesn't wreck a fence when he does hit. Babe is anxious not to disappoint them in this respect.

Manager Bush's decision not to send Kiki Cuyler, heavy hitting outfielder, in to pinch hit has created a flurry of discussion. With the great Cuyler on the bench, Bush selected a substitute outfielder, Fred Brickell, to pinch hit for Miljus in the ninth and the best Brickell could do was to tap weakly to the pitcher. "Why didn't he use Cuyler?" is the question asked on all sides today.

Paul Waner, one of Pittsburgh's idols, remained on the pedestal local fandom has placed him. His three hits, one of them a double, furnished one of the few bright spots for the home town fans. Today Waner and Ruth, the best publicized players in the series, are leading the batting averages, each with a mark of .750.

All reserved seats for this afternoon's game have been sold. The only seats left are for the temporary bleachers in center field and standing room. The police continued active in seizing ticket speculators, eleven men having been arrested and 100 tickets confiscated in the last twenty four hours. Although there was a tremendous crush at the gates yesterday only one casualty was reported. The victim, Edward Schwartz, 20, of Wilkinsburg, Pa., was injured when he fell while climbing one of the walls at the ball park.

Miss Elsie Eaves, who has done extensive engineering work in the West and who is now located in New York City, is the first woman to be elected to full membership in the American Society of Civil Engineers.

Lazzeri And Hoyt Suffer Injuries In Opening Game

Yankee Second Baseman Suffers Sprained Wrist In Crash With Grantham

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 6.—Tony Lazzeri, second baseman of the New York Yankees, will play against the Pirates today with his right wrist tightly bandaged. The wrist was injured when Lazzeri tagged out Grantham in the second inning yesterday. The two players collided so heavily that Lazzeri's wrist required medical attention after the game.

Waite Hoyt, New York pitcher who was knocked out of the box, suffered a badly blistered finger on his pitching hand as a result of attempting to put too much "stuff" on the ball.

These injuries increased New York's hospital list to three, as Herb Pennock was hit on the knee by a line drive in batting practice before the series started. Mark Koenig, Yankee shortstop, was knocked dizzy in a collision with Traynor yesterday, but was not hurt badly.

Too Much Ruth In First Game

When a great pitcher collapsed and when Ruth hit singles as well as home runs, the New York Yankees romped to a 5-4 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates in the opening game of the world's series, played at Forbes field, Pittsburgh, Wednesday afternoon.

Moore, conceeded to be one of the best relief pitchers in the business, demonstrated his ability in the ninth inning when he retired three Pittsburgh batsmen without one of them reaching the sacks.

Allegheny College And Westminster To Meet On Track

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Oct. 6. — Graduate Manager A. A. McDonald has had communication from Allegheny College athletic authorities requesting a two-year contract for track meets between Westminster and Allegheny.

In all probability, the first meet will be held in New Wilmington, May 5, 1928, and the second meet the following year at Meadville.

Allegheny and Westminster have always had the very best relations and the new track agreement means that the United Presbyterians and the Methodists will meet in football, basketball, track and cross country.

Urges Grid Fans Extend Welcome To Donora High Team

Gardner Asks That Football Fans Forget Incident That Occurred In 1926

In our annual football game with Donora High school last fall there was a very unpleasant mixup and near riot at the close of the game, which certainly was a sad reflection upon the sportsmanship of the football fans of New Castle. In connection with this, and immediately following it, some person or persons cut the tires of the bus which brought the Donora team to New Castle and broke some of the windows of the bus. John Anderson, coach of the Donora team, splendid sportsman that he always has been, insisted upon taking the major share of the blame for the trouble because the captain of his team had taken the ball used in the game, with the idea of taking it back to Donora as a trophy of the game.

Our game with Donora Saturday is going to be one of the best and hardest fought games we will play this year. Donora has a splendid team this year and Saturday's struggle should be one of the greatest games ever to have been staged in New Castle.

I am asking the real football fans to join with us in extending to Coach Anderson and his team a real welcome before and after the game. Will you also join with us in helping to suppress instantly and overwhelmingly any expressions of that poor sportsmanship which developed last fall?

RALPH H. GARDNER.

SPORTS DONE BROWN

By NORMAN E. BROWN

Followers of the Western College conference seem almost agreed that the Big Ten title is quite liable to rest in the spacious halls of the University of Minnesota next winter.

This prophecy is based on Minnesota's showing last year and the continued presence of such men as Herb Joesting, Almquist and others who helped carry the banner last fall.

All of which brings discussion of Minnesota's achievements on the gridiron and her football heroes to the fore.

Great football players by the score have been produced at the Gopher institution.

The older grads will dig up heroes for you for any year from that memorable season of 1902 up to the present crew. But the older boys will always tell you first about "Sig" Harris. Harris was to Minnesota in his day what Benny Friedman was to Michigan. Both were quarters. Harris was Jewish, as is Friedman. And Harris drew the popular acclaim that Benny did during his reign as field leader of the Wolverine squad.

It was Harris who "drove" the great Minnesota team through to a 6 to 6 tie with Michigan in 1902. Germany Schacht, beloved by all Gopherites, and whose name has been lifted by tradition far above that of many others, was the man who performed the physical feat—but under Harris' direction. Harris sent the big German plunging into the line almost the length of the field, gaining a few yards at a time, until he had carried the ball across the goal. It was Harris who inspired the whole team into fighting the Wolverine team the length of the field.

A few years later there was "Dusky" Marshall, negro, and a wonderful football player.

There was Jim Walker and Johnny McGovern, quarterback and rated the greatest field general the Gophers have ever produced.

There was Thorpe, a guard. "Sunny," they called him. Huge in size, and oh, what a line wrecker!

There was Rube Rosenthal, called the greatest center the institution ever had. Like all centers, he played unsung as far as the general public was concerned. But Minnesota players and coaches knew his worth. So did opposing centers.

The young students of the game know Wyman and Baston. When someone starts an argument relative to the greatest forward passing combination in the game's history, choose those two boys and let the others unseat you.

Minnesota had its share of great players and great teams.

You can't call the team that checked Red Grange in 1924 little less than great—after considering what Grange and his mates did to Michigan the very same autumn.

Cross Country Team At Westminster Making Good Progress

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Oct. 6. — Training daily on the Fayette and Neshannock courses, Coach R. X. Graham's Blue and White harriers are showing championship stamina in their practice workouts, and will be primed for the opening meet of the season with the Geneva College cross country team at New Wilmington, Pa., this Saturday.

On Tuesday the Westminster runners were given time trials over a 3¾ mile stretch, the results revealing that Captain Wesley Rose, former New Castle track star, had the best time for the distance he completed the run in 24 minutes.

Yesterday the Westminster cross country mentor, R. X. Graham, limited the practice to a four and one half mile hike over the hills surrounding the college town.

The season's opening meet with Geneva this Saturday will be held in conjunction with the Westminster-St. Francis grid encounter, and will be held over the five and one half mile Fayette course, starting at 1:45 p. m.

Yankees Were "Lucky" Pittsburghers Claim In Lamenting Defeat

Believe Bush Showed Poor Judgment In Keeping Kremer In So Long

Fans Shriek For "Cuyler" In Ninth, But Family Quarrel Still Prevails

By JACK LAIT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 6.—There is wailing and lamentation on the banks of the Monongahela today. Many of the home-towners have been at it since yesterday afternoon, having writhed neath the sackcloth and ashes of defeat continuously without the feel of a bed. It was a wild night in Pittsburgh. But it would have been frantic had the Pirates won.

The local enthusiasts are crying "lucky breaks". New York's best piece of luck was Donie Bush's stubbornness in keeping Ray Kremer in after some of the sloppiest pitching ever beheld in a big series. In the battle of the big four right-handed pitchers the Yanks had the call. The expert dope was double reversed when the slugging Yanks were outhit and the pitching Pirates were outpitched.

I think the Yanks are the best outfit. Without their heavy guns working, they outclassed Pittsburgh's nifty but not mighty team.

Kremer In Too Long.

Kremer helped lose his own game when he issued two passes in the third inning. Ruth's single, Grantham's error and a dumb throw and muff by Smith completed the rout. That was a terrible inning for the Pirates, and that was where the game passed out.

Although it would have been logical to yank Kremer at this juncture, as he would be the first batter up in Pittsburgh's turn at bat, Bush let him stay. When Kremer came to bat he doubled and scored, which was fine, but he shouldn't have gone back to the box. He got the balmy Pittsburgh air two innings later. It should have been three sooner.

Ruth was easily the hitting star, though the best he got was singles. He scored two runs and figured in three Yankee rallies. Lou Gehrig was the fielding luminary. He was a demon with that right-hand glove. Ruth, however, made the only sensational catch of the affray.

It was higher class technical big league ball all the way, but would have rated only a fair game without many big moments had the stake been anything less than a world title. A foreigner watching it would have wondered why so many people ($182,477 worth) were here. He would have seen workmanlike playing but few high-spot thrills.

Call For Cuyler.

Even Ruth and Gehrig were exciting only because of what they had done rather than for what they did. They never flashed their specialty, the long wallops. Gehrig's triple in the first should have been held to a single.

To me, one of the chief figures of interest was Kiki Cuyler, sweatered, idle, nervous, petulant, at the mouth of the dugout like Achilles sulking in his tent. It's a family quarrel. But all the neighbors are in on it.

The crowd called aloud for him in the ninth inning pinch, but a feeble Brickell who hit to the pitcher was all they got. And groans were all that answered.

Had Cuyler batted, the nation's heart would have been in its windpipe with suspense and drama. And—had he hit—and had he tied the score—that would have been one no Frank Merriwell ever dared invent. No petty quarrel should rob America of a try at such a thrill.

But—he didn't.

And so the first game goes into the records reading rather mathematical, mechanical and kickless.

But—today's another day—and at least one hero must come through. I still hope it will be Kiki.

Donora Will Be Real Test For Local Gridders

Coach Bridenbaugh Grooms New Castle High Football Team For Hard Battle

Donoro high will bring a football team to this fair city Saturday afternoon that will be every bit as good if not just a little better than the array that deadlocked the New Castle team last season.

Scouts who watched the Donora boys trample their opponents last week under a mighty healthy score, report that the locals will have plenty to accomplish if they are to keep their slate clean. Mortak is not on the Donora team this year, but they have a backfield that stands about on a par with the work of the curly-haired individual last year.

Coach Philip H. Bridenbaugh is driving the team through a series of strenuous workouts this week in preparation for the battle that is expected to take place Saturday afternoon when the gridders clash at the Ben Franklin high stadium.

With three early victories under their belts the locals are going to strive for that fourth consecutive victory. A victory over Donora, will enhance the locals' chances of winning the W. P. I. A. L. title.

It will be recalled that the Monongahela valley boys last year came to New Castle with the intention of holding the locals to as low a score as possible, and they never dreamed that they would emerge on even terms. The near riot that occurred following the game when a Donora high man snatched the football has been entirely erased and forgotten by the locals. When the Donora team takes the field Saturday they will be welcomed in the same manner that other teams this year have been welcomed.

UNDERTAKERS TOO NUMEROUS

Penn And Brown Clash Saturday

Penn- Brown Game Headlines Eastern Football Program For Saturday

By MALCOLM ROY
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Oct. 6—Unabashed by all the hub-dub over the world's series, football takes a running hop, step and jump right into mid-season doings on Saturday. The Pennsylvania-Brown clash at Franklin Field at Philadelphia probably stands forth as the principal attraction, but the big intersectional battles at Cambridge and New Haven, when Harvard tackles Purdue of the Western Conference, and Yale plays the host to the aspiring University of Georgia eleven, respectively, are only a shade less appealing.

Victory means well-nigh everything, both to Pennsylvania and Brown. Each aspires to the football championship of the East. Brown is relying strongly on seven of the nine "iron" men who on successive Saturdays last season defeated both Yale and Dartmouth.

Tuss McLaughry, the Brown coach, has whipped together a powerful, alert eleven that is respected if not feared by Pennsylvania, coaches and players alike. So carefully have the Quakers prepared for Brown that at each of the games the Providence eleven has played, no less than three scouts, headed by Charlie (Kid) Kelnath, have been on hand diagramming each and every play the Brunonians put on.

That the game will be a real battle from the opening whistle is a certainty. Brown's plan of campaign is to get the jump on the other team and hold it while Pennsylvania as a result of observations believes that if it can do no more than hang on doggedly for the first half it will so shake the confidence of Brown and wear down its morale that there should be relatively little difficulty in going through for a victory in the second half.

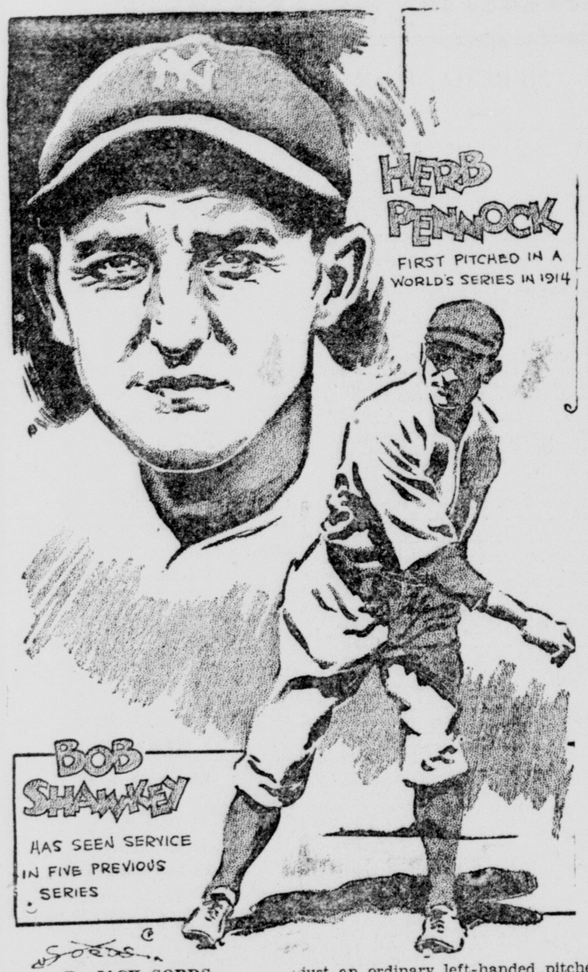
Series Nothing New To The Yanks



By JACK SORDS

It was in 1914 that Herb Pennock and Bob Shawkey broke into their first world's series. Both were members of the Philadelphia Americans and since then Pennock worked in the series of 1923 and 1926 with the Yankee, and Shawkey in addition to these saw service in the Yankees' series of 1921 and 1922. Now both are in the embarrassing position of having to share again in this year's divvy.

Many things have happened and many new stars bobbed into the limelight since these veterans worked on the mound for Connie Mack. Babe Ruth was the only other Yankee in the big leagues at that time and he just an ordinary left-handed pitcher trying to make a living with the Red Sox.

Both Pennock and Shawkey held up well under the strain of the intervening years. Pennock is the younger of the two and is in better shape, but Shawkey has a world of pitching knowledge in his head after seventeen years experience. Many times during the last few years Shawkey was considered through, but he always came through with some masterful performance that killed the idea. Pennock was the best southpaw in the majors last year and not more than two have been his superiors this year.

A Handsome Gladiator — By Feg Murray

This nice-looking young man is an Irish-American named Tommy Loughran, who is to fight Mike McTigue in the near future for the world's light heavyweight championship. You may remember that Tommy's friends raised something of a squawk when the New York State boxing commission handed Mike the crown with their compliments after Jack Delaney resigned the throne, because they—Tommy's friends—claimed that he was the logical heir to it.

Tommy Loughran is one of the finest young men you ever could hope to meet, but I doubt if he ever has been, or ever will be a great fighter. He is a master boxer, there is no doubt about that, and he seems to be game enough and aggressive enough, but so far there has been no indication that he packs any amount of dynamite, and you've got to have a punch or you can't be a great fighter.

Ring fans will remember a little over a year ago how Tommy, invited to Atlantic City to train with Jack Dempsey, showed up the champion's true condition by completely outboxing him, tying him up in knots, making him miss by a couple of feet, and bouncing punches off his head and body at will. But in few of his one hundred or so ring battles has Loughran displayed much of a "killer instinct" or knock-out wallop. About seventeen of his opponents have been counted out, close to half of his battles have been no-decision affairs, and he has lost six, two to Harry Greb in 1923, one each to Jack Delaney and Young Stribling in 1924, and to Young Stribling and Ad Stone in 1925.

As all the fistic world knows, it was no disgrace to be beaten by Harry Greb and Jack Delaney, and as for the two Stribling defeats. Tommy wiped the memory of them from the books by decisively whipping the Georgia Peach last May in Brooklyn. He has fought two no-decision affairs with Mike McTigue, and now his many friends are pulling for him to win the title from the aged Irishman.

Feg Murray Says—

Well, the Davis Cup may now be filled with something besides water, anyway! U. S. L. T. A. no longer stands for "U-Shall-Live-Teetotalers-Always."

THIEVES BREAK INTO HOME ON LEASURE AVE.

Detective C. G. Horner and Officer Clarence Samuels were detailed last night to investigate the call from the home of H. E. Carson, 511 Leasure avenue, which was to the effect that the place had been entered during the absence of the members of the family.

On their arrival they found that entrance had been affected by tearing off the screen wire over the cellar window. On getting into the cellar the thief or thieves, as the case might be, had lighted some matches which were found on the floor.

Indications are that they had been in the refrigerator but there was no indication that they had touched anything else in the home. They had gone out the side cellar door.

Take Measures To Stamp Out Revolt Raging In Mexico

GRID CAPTAINS

Purdue, ranked as one of the smaller schools of the Western College Conference, or "Big Ten," looms as one of the most formidable members of the conference in this year's grid dope.

And this is partly because of the presence once more of "Cotton" Wilcox, now captain.

Wilcox is recognized as one of the greatest ball carriers in the conference. He hits the line or tears through a broken field with the force of a battering ram. Added to this forcefulness he has plenty of speed.

Critics are agreed that had Wilcox been with a stronger outfit last year he would have made a stronger bid for all American honors.

HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

The Story of Alaska—Part Four.

by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

SEAL HUNTING EARLY BECAME ONE OF THE LEADING INDUSTRIES OF ALASKA. BY THE END OF THE 19TH CENTURY THE TRADE IN SEAL-SKINS HAD YIELDED $12,000,000. MOST OF THE SEALS WERE FOUND ON THE ROCKY SHORES OF THE PRIBILOF ISLANDS IN BERING SEA.

A BITTER QUARREL AROSE BETWEEN AMERICAN AND CANADIAN SEAL-HUNTERS. THE FORMER PROTESTED THE LATTER'S CLAIM TO THE RIGHT OF KILLING SEALS WHILE ON THE WAY TO AND FROM THE ISLANDS.

THE UNITED STATES, TO PROTECT ITS HUNTERS, DECLARED THAT BERING SEA WAS AN "ENCLOSED WATER," AND AS SUCH NOT OPEN TO HUNTERS OF OTHER NATIONS. THE CANADIANS DISPUTED THIS RULING, AND THE MATTER WAS SUBMITTED TO ARBITRATION.

THE QUESTION WAS DECIDED AGAINST THE UNITED STATES. BERING SEA WAS THROWN OPEN TO ALL, BUT, LATER, STRICT LAWS WERE MADE FOR THE PRESERVATION OF THE SEALS.

Youthful Thug, Under Arrest, Laments Fate

Akron Youth Accepts Ride With Gang Of Bandits And Is Finally Arrested

BEGS POLICE NOT TO TELL MOTHER

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 6.— A good-looking fair-haired youth gripped the bars of a cell in city hall detention room today and pleaded with detectives. His nerve was broken and his bravado vanished. He was just a boy again wishing for home.

Twelve days ago Francis Heyer, 19, walked from his mother's home at 1198 Lakeside avenue, Akron, O. He hadn't a care in the world. Two men drove up beside him and asked the way to Pittsburgh and he went with them on a trip that changed his whole scheme of life.

He joined them in a 10-day carnival of crime which led through a dozen holdups in six cities.

"I don't know what made me go with the two men that day," Heyer confessed to police after being arrested as a holdup suspect here.

"Anyway I went to Pittsburgh with them where we stole an automobile and robbed two drug stores. Later we went to Baltimore and Washington where we held up some more drug stores. Then we went to Trenton and I got my biggest thrill. We were cruising down the main street when we saw two wealthy looking men and a boy standing on a street corner. We jumped out and pushed pistols in their faces. They handed over wads of money. It was so easy.

"We next came to Philadelphia," his signed confession reads, "and I held up two drug stores by myself."

Neither of the proprietors recognized Heyer when detectives arrested him after his two companions escaped but he broke down and confessed.

"You can do whatever you want with me, but don't tell mother," he begged.

Made Room

A housewife writes: "When baking a pie recently I had my oven full except for a small space which would not hold my pie tin. So I hit upon the scheme of putting in a small pan, inverting same, and setting my pie on that. This saves time and fuel as I could do all my baking at once."

A man who can be driven to drink is always thirsty.—The Illinois State Journal.

May Be Recalled

Because of his indiscretion in signing a declaration at Moscow preaching the spread of sedition abroad, Christian Rakovsky, above Soviet ambassador to France, may be recalled.

N. Y. STOCKS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—A 10 point jump in the stock of the American Express Company in the first period today showed conclusively that the speculative possibilities of the market were by no means exhausted.

Since yesterday noon this staid old investment stock has advanced about 20 points, and drawn the spot-light on reports that the long awaited separation of the banking and transportation features of its business was about to be consummated, with separated companies controlling each activity. The stock sold today at 179¾, against yesterday's price of 160.

Uneasiness in the financial district followed rumors that the big loaning banks were scaling down the margin of loans on industrial stocks which have risen in value in recent months, and that deliberated withdrawal of money from the call loan market, rather than scarcity of funds, had accounted for the sudden tightening of call money, with the 4½ per cent call loan rate.

stands and upon the carefully manicured diamond. The atmosphere was balmy and the breeze across the ball park was so faint it barely ruffled the American flag atop the pole in centerfield.

No All Night Vigil

The excitement and frenzy that characterized the opening game died down considerably today. There was no all night vigil of fans at the gates, no charging of the police lines outside the park or concerted attempts to scale the high wall. Instead the fans came in quite orderly fashion and in such moderate numbers during the morning that when the bleacher gates were opened at 10 o'clock only half the seats were occupied.

Shortly before noon Nirella's 22-piece band, attired in scarlet coats, came upon the field and marched out to the bleachers where they entertained the spectators with the latest popular selections.

A few minutes later Nick Altrock and Al Schacht, the bufoons of baseball, made a dramatic entrance into the arena bowing to the left and right like victorious bull fighters. They were received with a mixture of applause and raspberries.

Mr. Altrock at once seized the director's baton and assumed charge of the band. He led the musicians close to a box along the third base line wherein reclined a chic-looking member of the fair sex. Altrock went into a huddle with members of the band, emerged, struck a pose before the young lady, and signaled the band to play:

"Let me call you sweetheart, I'm in love with you."

The girl gave the handsome Mr. Altrock a withering look. Undaunted Nick tried the piece twice more but the young woman registered nothing but extreme boredom. Finally, Nick turned his attention to some ex-bartenders in the left field bleachers and his antics got across in a big way.

Yanks Enter.

The New York Yanks in their grey traveling uniforms came up through a dugout a few minutes before noon and began tossing the ball around back of the home plate.

Babe Ruth, passing the press box, made a few crabby comments about the Yanks' victory of yesterday.

"We were terrible" he declared. "We just weren't hitting. Only six hits! Say just watch us today."

The Pirates, in their brand new white uniforms, appeared on the field at 12:05 and began warming up their salary wings. They were grim looking and apparently in dead earnest, in contrast to the schoolboy antics of the Yanks.

A score of camermen herded ball players, goats and heroes alike into groups and posed them in various attitudes.

The Pirates indulged in a sprightly batting practice. Pitchers Yde and Dawson served straight, fast ones up to the batters, who aimed long drives at the inviting stands in right field.

At 12:35 the Pirates came off the diamond and the Yanks began their practice. As Lou Gehrig stood back of the batting cage swinging a bat, one of the photographers crowded in too close and got himself hit in the eye. He was not seriously hurt.

Babe Ruth strode to the plate and immediately proceeded to park the first ball pitched into the right field stand. There was no applause. Ruth took a toe-hold and shot another higher into the same stand. A few fans gave him a hand.

At 12:45 the bleachers were entirely filled and the holders of reserved seats were coming into the grand stands in great droves. Indications were that today's game would be another sellout, and witnessed by upwards of 40,000.

Nick Altrock brought the band up directly in front of the press boxes and serenaded the four hundred scribes with sentimental pieces.

Shortly before game time Manager Huggins said the New York battery would be Pipgras and Bengough. Bush announced Aldridge and Gooch as the Pittsburgh battery.

It was reported that Lazzeri, the Yankee second baseman, whose right wrist was injured yesterday in a collision with Grantham, might not be able to get in the line-up for today's game.

YANKEES—Combs up. Strike 1, called; ball 1, wide, outside; Combs out, on a fly to Barnhart. Koenig up. Ball 1, low; Koenig signaled to center. It was on the second ball pitched. Ruth up. Strike 1, called; ball 1, low, inside; foul down first base line, strike 2; strike 3. Ruth struck out. Ruth took a vicious cut at strike number 2, the crowd roaring its approval. Gehrig up. Foul, back of the stand; strike 1; ball 1, wide; ball 2, high and outside; ball 3, high outside. It's strike 1, ball 3. Ball four, high outside. Gehrig walked. Koenig going to second. Meusel up. Ball 1, high; ball 2, wide; strike 1, called; strike 2, swung; Meusel out, Aldridge to Harris. No runs, one hit, no errors, two left on bases.

PIRATES—L. Waner up. Ball 1, wide; strike 1, called; foul, strike 2; L. Waner tripled to the left field fence. It was a terrific wallop. Meusel relayed the ball as it bounded off the fence and threw on a line to third, Waner sliding into the bag safely. Barnhart up. Foul, right field line, strike 1; strike 2, called; foul back of the plate; L. Waner scored on Barnhart's long sacrifice fly to Ruth against the right field stands. Ruth made a magnificent catch. P. Waner up. Foul, left field line, strike 1; foul, left field line, strike 2; ball 1, high, inside; ball 2, inside; Bengough complained violently to the umpire, saying the last one was a strike. Foul, left field line; foul, left field line. P. Waner was sending long fouls into the left field stands. Ball 3, outside; foul back. The umpire had to secure more balls in the dugout. Foul, left. It went over the left stands. Strike 3, called. P. Waner fanned. Wright up. Foul, right, strike 1; ball 1, wide; Wright out, on a high fly to Ruth, who camped under it easily. One run, one hit, no errors, none left on bases.

5 reasons

Why YOU Should Own Your Home

FIRST—You cease paying for the upkeep of another man's property. Money that went to the landlord each month will now be invested in your own dwelling. Owning a home makes you independent.

SECOND—A home with its grounds provides the only proper environment for rearing children. Their playmates are the children of other home-owners. Owning a home makes you a better father.

THIRD—Similarly, you choose your neighbors. Instead of being people you must tolerate, they become friends you want to know. Owning a home brings you friends.

FOURTH—You are afforded the opportunity of living in a truly residential section: trees, lawns and flowers in place of noisy streets. Owning a home brings wholesome surroundings.

FIFTH—Being a landowner, you enter more whole-heartedly into the affairs of your community. Its interests are yours. Owning a home makes you a better citizen.

THE OLD HOME TOWN — Stanley

Navy Band Coming Here By Permission Of President Coolidge

That Lieut. Charles Benter, U. S. N. intends to justify the reputation which has preceded the tour of the United States Navy Band is quite evident from the program he has chosen for New Castle.

A few days ago the News announced a most attractive and interesting program which the students will hear at the Matinee program tomorrow afternoon, and the program for the evening concert is announced here. The concert opens with the Overture "Mignon" by Ambroise Thomas a number full of so much tunefulness and gracefulness that it has won an everlasting place in the hearts of music lovers everywhere. Second is the Suite de Ballet "Coppella" by Delibes whose greatest success as a composer lay in his ballet music. Musician George Unsinn will next be heard in a Cornet solo by Hartmann, "Brbucklenian Polka" while the fourth number is the Grand Scene and Ensemble from the Opera "Andrea Chenier" by Umberto Giordano. This great number it will be remembered was written in memory of the great French poet Chenier, who was guillotined in 1794, a helpless victim of anarchy.

For many of the older folks at the concert tomorrow night, the most popular number on the program will be number five which is a Fantasia on old American Plantation Songs, including "Old Black Joe," "Old Kentucky Home," "Old Folks at Home," "Old Zip Coon," and other tunes so dear to every American heart. Strange to note, and inconsistent as it may seem, this particular arrangement was published by a leading English publishing house and bears the descriptive note "As performed by Sousa's Band by command of His Majesty the King at Sandringham." It will also be remembered that Sousa created a sensation in England on this particular tour of Europe which is referred to here. Closing the first half of the program will be a group of late popular numbers by the "United States Navy Jazz Band," composed of members of the Band proper, a group that is used at dinner parties, dances, receptions and other official functions indoor at Washington.

Following the Intermission Benter is going to picture musically what happens on "Circus Days," from the time the train arrives in the morning to the finale at night. Number eight is a group of popular excerpts from the Operetta "Countess Maritza," by Kalman and this followed by Musician Louis Goucher's interpretation of "Coming Through the Rye," on the Xylophone. Then comes the most popular concert waltz ever written "The Beautiful Blue Danube," by Johann Strauss while the closing number before the "Star Spangled Banner" is that rythmical rhapsody "Slavonic" by Friedmann a modern Polish composer.

There is much interest in the appearance of this famous military organization which is making this tour by special permission of Congress, President Coolidge and the Navy Department and the Educational Art Society is to be commended for making it possible for the music lovers of the city to hear it at a popular price and for having provided for a nominally priced matinee for the young people of the city and county schools. The Scottish Rite Auditorium should welcome these "Boys in the Navy Blue," with every seat taken afternoon and evening.

Body Is Burned On Cinder Dump

JOHNSONBURG, Pa., Oct. 6.—John A. Benson, aged 63, was found dead on the cinder dump in the borough this morning. He was employed as night watchman over the auto trucks used in hauling cinders for the state highway, and was found by the drivers when they reported for duty.

Dr. Smith was summoned and gave his opinion that death was due to natural causes and possibly heart failure, as the body was found lying on its right side, with a shirt used as a pillow. It was badly scarred from the neck to the feet, by the ashes that were smoldering for some time. There was no evidence of a struggle. The body was taken to the morgue. His only known relative is a sister, who resides in St. Louis, Mo.

I Knew Him When: "He displayed the elements of success early in life—was always the first to find the one dry spot on the old roller towel."

Roaming Round With Richards

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle.

This business, now, of getting one's hand read to find out the past, the present and the future. Silly? Perhaps, but for many years it's been a great solace to lovesick girls and goofy young men.

But——and get this——the mechanical age has invaded the field of palmistry and one can now get his palm read for one cent, by a machine which feels the palm through means of metal tips which reach up and touch it.

One of them has reached New Castle but either the hands of New Castle folks are out of shape or else the machine is a "gyp." Met Jimmy Smith and Trev Zahniser last night on Washington street pouring pennies into the machine with all the reckless abandon of a Scotchman, but every time they put a cent in, the same card came out, with the information that either they had held their hands wrong, or else they were deformed and the machine did not pretend to read deformed hands.

But down on the walk underneath the machine was a young snow storm of similar cards and apparently nobody got their hand read. Wasn't it P. T. Barnum who said, "there's one born every minute?"

Roamed around yesterday afternoon much like a spigot. Lots of speed but always in the same place, and that place, the World Series score board in front of the office.

Since 1920 the colyum conductor has had the same seat for the World's Series, the seat being standing room on a platform ten feet from the ground, reproducing the plays of the players. As Harry Bell sometimes sings in a minor key, "it may be the world to a world of fans, but it's only a bore to me."

Plenty of customers for the first game, yesterday and the crowd was a cross section of American life. One gentleman out in that crowd has a dime for every Chinaman in Hong-Kong, and another one out there probably wondered where the money was coming from for this morning's coffee. A number of lads had degrees tacked to their names from various colleges and some of the boys never saw a college until the road was concreted to New Wilmington. But all of them were interested in one thing, the game between the Pirates and the Yanks, and they got a thrill out of seeing it reproduced on the scoreboard.

If perhaps you think that it requires nobody to run the board and its accompanying machinery, take a look at this. First of all arrangements have to be made to install a special looped telegraph wire into the News office from the playing field, wherever it may be. Then Edward P. Grasser, one of the experts of the Bell Telephone company has to come up and install special telegraph equipment. As it comes over the wire in dots and dashes, Ed Fritz of the News grabs it off and transcribes into type. That's one end of it. Jimmy Morehead and Ted Woodrow of the M. & D. Radio Company have a special annunciator system installed for the broadcasting of the play by play account and that interesting account in a baritone voice is Charles P. Walthers. Out on the street is an intricate scoreboard which has been installed by John Laux and every movement of the ball players is reproduced on this big board. This takes two men to operate, the other one being Harry K. Bell. To answer telephone calls several of the News staff are kept busy as well as the News switchboard operator Miss Margaret Dart and over the whole three ring circus is the watchful eye of the editor George W. Conway.

And all of this is done for just one purpose, to give the fans of New Castle an up-to-the-minute service on the World's Series. It's a lot of work and expense but the News believes it is worth all of it.

Come down any day and get a reserved seat out on the curb.

After the crowd had filtered away Wednesday afternoon North Mercer street looked like a picnic grounds. Paper, tin foil, cigarette butts, matches, or what have you. And one gentleman's observation of the wreckage was that the baseball fans of our fair city chew a lot of scrape tobacco.

Oh, yes, nearly an omission. The fans owe a vote of thanks to the efficient work of Officers William Tyrell and Nick Faiella for the splendid work in keeping traffic off North Mercer street and getting all automobiles out of there before the game.

If you happen to be driving on North Mercer street and the officers turn you back, don't get sore, remember that sevaral thousand fans are looking at the game.

AMERICANISM: Laughing at the filvver; buying one.

Salts Fine For Aching Kidneys

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, sometimes get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region begin drinking lots of water. Also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is intended to flush clogged kidneys and help stimulate them to activity. It also helps neutralize the acids in the urine so they no longer irritate, thus helping to relieve bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink which everybody should take now and then to help keep their kidneys clean.

A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in trying to correct kidney trouble while it is only trouble.
